EXPERTS TALK LOWERING OF EXEMPTIONS

Would Reduce Income Levy Allowances to $1,000 For Married Couples.

NEW BASE SOUGHT

Treasury, Congress Leaders Advance Plan to Take Big Slice of Income.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Treasury and congressional tax leaders are considering a 15 per cent salary withholding tax and reduction of personal income tax exemptions to $500 for single persons and $1,000 for married couples as a base for the $9,000,000,000 war revenue program, informed sources said today.

In simple figures enactment of the combined income and social security tax proposals that have been tentatively advanced would take nearly 14 per cent of the gross income of a family of two earning $2,000 a year—a deduction of about $5 from a $38.50 weekly paycheck.

There is nothing certain about any tax proposals at this point. The treasury will not send its recommendations to the house ways and means committee before Jan. 20.

However, among the other possibilities discussed at yesterday's conference among Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, and Chairman Robert L. Doughton, D., N. C., of the house ways and means committee and Walter F. George, D., Ga., of the senate finance committee, were these:

Great increases in excise taxes on all articles that require materials needed in war production. The figure discussed at the tax conference was 35 per cent on rubber articles, refrigerators, radios, sporting goods and automobiles.

A requirement that husbands and wives who live together and have separate incomes pool their incomes for tax purposes and file a single, joint return. This provision, which requires a married

Two Historic Retreats From Moscow - - 1812 — 1942

Hitler's military juggernaut which rolled relentlessly forward during two years of war is now being taught by the Russians how to roll in another direction—backward. Along the longest land battlefront of the war the Muscovite winter and Muscovite arms have sent Germans fleeing. AP Feature Service Artist Hank Barrow visualizes this retreat from the Moscow front as Nazi men and machines reel before the adversary (top). A similar combination of Russian winter and manpower 130 years ago gave Napoleon his first major defeat. This old drawing (at right) shows the conqueror's bedraggled forces during their retreat from Moscow.

Artillery Sets Stage for Huge Land Offensive

Guns Roar Northwest of Manila; Nippon Troops Attempt New Landing at Mindanao Island; Tokyo Says Battle Starts Early Today.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—The war department today indicated that the first phase of Japan's "all-out" drive to complete conquest of the Philippines has begun with artillery duels northwest of Manila.

Large Nipponese reinforcements also were mentioned, supporting the belief that the Japs are on the verge of launching a vast ground offensive against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's defense troops, believed deployed chiefly in the northern area of Batan.

Japan's hordes apparently have begun a new attempt to land on the coast of Mindanao island.

Their last effort to land there failed when American bombing planes dispersed their ships, sinking several of them.

The war department's communique today stated:

"Philippine theater: Intensive patrolling and artillery duels characterized ground operations on the island of Luzon yesterday. Heavy enemy reinforcements are being brought to the front. Other indications point to the resumption of an offensive drive by the Japanese.

Hostile air activity was again limited to observation flights.

"The reappearance of a considerable number of enemy vessels off the coast of Mindanao indicates the probability that additional Japanese landings will be made on that island.

"There is nothing to report from other areas."

News emanating from the Reuters agency in London disclosed that the Tokyo radio has announced the battle began early today. The Reuters report, relating the Japanese broadcast, stated that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's first line had been crushed, but confirmation was lacking.

There was no word from the war department throughout the night.

In its last communique, the war department disclosed that Japanese troops, heavily reinforced and outnumbering the combined American-Filipino troops, were moving continually toward forward areas. These operations, the war department stated, were "apparently in preparation for a renewed attack in force."

The anticipated offensive, observers predicted, would find MacArthur's soldiers prepared to spring their coup de grace.

Strategists said that the defense army at last is ready to "slug it out" with the enemy after 35 days of typical delaying action that has cost Japan precious hours and much man power in its effort to conquer the Far East.

Anticipated for nearly 48 hours, Japan's desperation drive was forestalled temporarily, military men believed, when MacArthur maneuvered out of range and into the most impregnable position available.

'Misquoted,' Mayor Says of Story on Council Commitees

Claiming that he had been "misquoted" yesterday by The News-Journal in a story concerning his apparent dissatisfaction with the council committee appointments made by Council President Howard G Miller, Mayor William J. Locke declined further comment on his inquiry into the legality of the committee appointments.

City Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner said today that he had found "no other appointing authority than the council president." He said he was still studying the matter and expected to complete his inquiry by Monday.

Wagner said yesterday that the mayor had made inquiries to him as to whether the appointments as made by Miller must stand.

Former City Solicitor William F. Black, asked about the routine usually followed, said that so far as he could remember, the council president had made the selections and they had been confirmed by council.

Miller's appointments have not yet been confirmed.

Meanwhile Miller defended his appointments, which have control of three important committees—finance, water and sewer—to the two-man Democratic minority in council, control of other six go-

AT ODDS

Senate, House Seek Accord on Daylight Saving.

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Congressional conferees today began work on senate and house versions of far-reaching daylight saving time legislation after the lower branch passed a measure advancing the nation's clocks by one hour to conserve light and power.

Approved over farm bloc opposition by a 67 to 20 vote, the house bill provides that 20 days after it becomes law all time throughout the nation be automatically advanced one hour, until six months after the war.

The senate version permits President Roosevelt to advance clocks as much as two hours everywhere, or in such regions as he might designate.

Confidence was expressed that a compromise will be reached in the joint conferences incorporating vital phases of the two bills.

Telephone Call Saves Couple From Gas Death

A telephone call from an unidentified person to Sheriff Frank E. Robinson at midnight Friday was believed today to have saved the lives of a young couple who had been overcome by monoxide gas while seated in a car along U. S. route 30 three miles east of the city.

The sheriff said the young man in the car was Orville F. Koser, 75 Raleigh avenue. The girl was not identified by officers. It was understood, however, that she lives near the place where officers found the car.

Sheriff Robinson said he and two deputies hurried to the scene after receiving a call that "someone is unconscious in a car east of the city."

When they opened the front door of the car, the young woman toppled out and was saved from falling to the ground by the officers. Koser was slumped over the steering wheel, the sheriff said. Both victims were immediately revived.

The sheriff said the couple apparently had sat a short time in the car with the motor running.

PLANE CRASHES

Soldiers Guard Wreckage In Which Three Died.

SPRINGFIELD— (AP)— Soldiers stood guard today over the burned wreckage of a twin-motor army cargo plane which crashed into a farm field, killing its three occupants shortly before midnight.

Army officers from Wright Field listed crew members as Second Lieut. Harold W. Wolfe, 24, of Dunkirk, N. Y.; co-pilot Clayton L. Head, 21, of Jackson, Miss., and crew chief George M. Hopkins, 22, of Dayton.

The bodies of the victims were taken to Patterson field to be sent home for burial. Two were burned but the third was thrown clear of the wreckage, the highway patrol said.

HEARTHS IDLE

Shortage of Iron, Steel Scrap Hits Youngstown Mills.

YOUNGSTOWN—(U.P.)—Mahoning valley steel operations will drop a point to 89 per cent of capacity next week because of the increasing shortage of iron and steel scrap, advance schedules showed today.

Ten of the 83 open hearths in the district will be idle next week. All three bessemers and all but one of the 25 blast furnaces will be operated. The current production rate is nine points below that of most of 1941.

NEW COLD WAVE HITS TONIGHT

Weatherman Dispels Hope of Mercury Rise, Say's It'll Be 'Much Colder.'

Shivering Mansfielders might as well plan to spend the week-end stoking the furnace. The weatherman today dispelled any hope of warmer weather by predicting that it will be "much colder" this afternoon and tonight and probably for the next 24 hours.

After moderating to 19 degrees yesterday afternoon, to give the city its "warmest" day in nearly a week, the mercury plunged to five below zero last night as a new cold blitzkreig charged into Ohio from the northwest.

Before the sudden temperature drop last night, however, another half inch of snow fell to create a new traffic problem and to provide more protection for wheat against the bitter cold.

Despite a bright sun, the temperature rose slowly today and at noon it stood at eight above zero. The new cold wave was expected to start the mercury down again this afternoon.

Mansfield tied Toledo as the two coldest cities in Ohio this morning. Findlay had two below. Dayton reported a zero reading, and at Hayesville and Columbus it was one above.

This morning's sub-zero weath-

Mayor to Pass Up Council In Airport Improvement Plans

Any plans by the city for improvement or development of Mansfield's neglected airport appeared destined to be by-passed around city council today when Mayor W. J. Locke said he would go ahead with an application for federal aid to finance improvements.

In answer to inquires today as to whether or not he planned to place the airport program before council, the mayor said he would go ahead with his own plan of financial improvements, apparently ignoring an expression from council's finance committee yesterday in which Fred Miller, chairman, said the committee would consider a request for airport funds if such a request is made.

Meanwhile the Citizen's committee for the improvement of the port met last night but members stated this morning that they had not discussed any plan to be presented to council for financial support.

James R. (Bud) Harrington, airport manager, said today, however, that he would ask council Monday night to include $5,000 for the support of the airport during 1942 in its appropriations bill.

Howard G. Miller, president of council, said yesterday that he had agreed to name a special air-

SWEPT BY BLAZE

Grain Elevator Burns, Loss Passes Two Millions.

SUPERIOR, Wis. —(AP)— Two explosions, followed by fire, destroyed the Great Northern railroad's elevator giant grain storage plant, including two firemen, were injured fighting the blaze in sub-zero temperatures.

At 8:45 a. m., Central Standard Time, firemen were trying to prevent the blaze from spreading to other elevators and oil storage and coal docks in the heart of the city's vital lakefront defense production section.

The fire was fanned by a high wind and all buildings in the area were threatened.

MASS TOMBS ARE DUG FOR JAPS

Coolies Prepare Graves For Invaders At Changsha.

CHANGSHA, China — (U.P.) — Coolies were digging two "tombs for the unknown invaders" today while Chinese soldiers pursued the remnants of a Japanese army which suffered a crushing defeat in an attempt to take this capital of Hunan province.

The tombs were for the bodies of innumerable Japanese scattered through the suburbs and the countryside.

Gen. Li Yutang estimated the Japanese casualties at 21,000 for the immediate environs of Changsha. The Chinese had 4,000 casualties here.

Whole Village Populations Slain In Greece, London Hears

NEW YORK —(INS)— Reports reaching London from Greece tell of "massacres of whole villages" in Macedonia by German and Bulgarian forces, the British radio said today.

Return of Bootleg Beverages Seen By Congressmen

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Return of the moonshine whisky and bathtub gin of the prohibition era was foreseen today by some congressmen as a possible outgrowth of an OPM order to distillers.

The order, issued this week, directed the distilling industry to divert about 60 per cent of its capacity to the production of ethyl alcohol, an important component of explosives.

Congressional representatives from three of the nation's biggest whisky-producing states — Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana—shared the view that bootlegging might pick up because of the order. These states produce about 75 per cent of all the whisky made in the United States.

ATTACKS: Air Raids Rip Jap Military Targets In Far East

BULLETIN

BERLIN — (By Official German Wireless) — (INS) — Japanese troops have occupied Kuala Lumpur, second city of Malaya, after evacuation of the tin center by British imperial soldiers, the German radio said today quoting a claim by Domei (Japanese) news agency. (There has been no verification of this claim from any other source.)

(By International News Service)

SINGAPORE—Smashing, flame-kindling air attacks on far-flung Jap military targets were announced by the British Far Eastern command today in a communique which also conceded new British withdrawals on the western Malayan front.

RAF planes flew far and wide this morning in a startling series of sudden raids on Japanese objectives at Sungei Patani, the Ipoh airdrome and Singora.

Tons of explosives and fire bombs were hurled on these targets, and at Singora large quantities of Jap military supplies were reported damaged.

The raids were launched while British imperial and Japanese troops were locked in a severe battle in the jungles of western Malaya.

At Sungei Patani large fires were started by the RAF raiders. The flames were followed by a series of explosions.

At Singora bombs were dropped on the shipping and railroad junction.

At the Ipoh airdrome, it was reported, three Jap planes apparently were set on fire and flames visible for miles rose from a long building that was hit.

A new war communique admitted the withdrawals as reports from the fighting front said

JOLT: Hitler Press Admits Army In Critical Position

(By Associated Press)

Adolf Hitler's own press chief prepared the German nation for a jolt today solemnly acknowledging that Nazi military operations "have reached an extremely serious and indeed critical phase" as the Russians swept on to new triumphs.

Soviet front-line dispatches declared that Red army troops advancing over the wintry battlefields at a pace of more than four miles a day had recaptured Mosalsk, 47 miles west of Kaluga, and further tightened the vise on 100,000 Germans still holding out at Mozhaisk.

Russian spearheads were reported within 25 miles of the Vyazma-Bryansk line, where Hitler is expected to rally his fleeing armies for an attempted stand deep in the rear of the Mozhaisk salient 57 miles west of Moscow.

A British radio broadcast said the Russians also were plunging forward in the Orel sector, 200 miles southwest of Moscow, "and killed here 5,000 German soldiers in the last five days."

The Swiss radio, quoting dispatches from Moscow, said communications on the 600-mile rail line between Moscow and Rostov-on-Don had been reestablished.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters acknowledged that "defense fighting continued with undiminished violence" on the central (Moscow) front and in the northern (Leningrad) sector.

Where German reports a few months ago told of Nazi Panzers raging over the Soviet countryside,

GEN. JOHNSON:

By GEN. HUGH S. JOHNSON.

WASHINGTON — Recent press photographs have given some faint uncolored idea of the singular beauty of the Mariveles mountains. The pictures were taken looking toward the north with grim outlines of Corregidor glowering in the foreground. Towering far above it on the opposite shore is the stark range of the Mariveles hills.

Gen. Johnson.

North of that, not shown in the pictures of course, is the little province of Batan which seems to be MacArthur's choice for his last stand. It is mostly a jumble of incredibly steep mountains of volcanic origin. They form a gigantic and even terrifying rampart enclosing Subic Bay and the naval station at Olongapo—a good port with some facilities for disembarking reinforcements or embarking a retreat.

Reports of actual battle lines are so sketchy that one can only guess how MacArthur has his forces disposed. There are a good many indications, however, that he has been retreating on concentrating lines joining in Batan province, and is actually holding a position in Subic Bay in the hope of keeping open transport communications with the world.

A retreat from Corregidor to Mariveles should not be too difficult, if worse comes to worst. In such an event the question would be: "How long can he hold out in Batan behind his very formidable mountain defense?"

No fighting army can hold out forever without a constant stream of supplies and ammunition. But in the strategy MacArthur seems to have adopted he can make any enemy pay 10 to 1 for every advance, if he can get supplies. If the Subic Bay base is still reasonably safe for his support we may witness one of the classic sieges of history.

It is impossible in words to give an adequate picture of the difficulties of an advance through those mountains. I once tried to march a troop of cavalry from Camp Stotsenberg (now apparently in enemy hands) to Olongapo. I had always heard that "a horse can go anywhere a man can go without using his hands." That trip proved it for me. If it had not been so, we wouldn't have gotten through.

Where the mountainous jungle trails are not almost impassible paths rutten deep with carabao tracks, they are the beds of dry mountain torrents strewn with boulders.

The people in those mountainous jungles away from the few areas of cultivation are the most primitive of the human race. They are almost naked pygmies—Negritos or Dravidians—with a vocabulary of only a few dozen words but they skulk through those jungle shadows without a sound. With poison blow-pipes (which make no noise) and their peculiar types of arrows, they can harass a column of troops until through death and terror, their morale is gone. They are reported to be on MacArthur's side.

As long as Corregidor is held the Japanese navy can't make much use of Manila Bay. That time may not be as long as some of us hoped. Corregidor is not well equipped against air attack.

But as long as MacArthur can keep his lines open into Batan, and especially if Subic Bay remains accessible to him, the flag won't go down in the Philippines.

There is little of spectacular glory in commanding a defense against a siege, but sometimes, as in this case, such a successful defense immobilizes so many of the enemy, as to be the equivalent of a great and victorious battle.

Some further idea of MacArthur's masterful art may be gathered from his choice of this line of retreat. For Corregidor can be dominated by heavy artillery fire from the tops of the Mariveles mountains. By holding them and the province of Batan, MacArthur has retained some measure of protection of Corregidor even if he has to abandon it

7 INDICTED BY GRAND JURORS PLEAD GUILTY

One Sentenced to Pen After Admitting Snatching Watch From Crestline Girl.

Seven of eight men arraigned yesterday afternoon before Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston on indictments returned Tuesday by the grand jury pleaded guilty and one was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary for one to 15 years.

Pleading guilty to a charge of assault with intent to rob, Robert R. Phillips, 29, Cincinnati, was sentenced to the penitentiary. He admitted snatching a wrist watch from the arm of Clarabelle Harrer of Crestline last Dec. 22 as she walked along North Walnut street near Library court.

Others who pleaded guilty but whose cases were continued were Jacob Hriesik, indicted for non-support; Walter L. Nixon, Melvin Brown, and Samuel Rose, accused of operating motor vehicles without the owners' consent; Clarence Gosser, breaking and entering, and Salvatore Anastasi, embezzlement.

Harry Rosser, indicted for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent, pleaded innocent.

Anastasi admitted diverting $1,600 of his employer's funds to his own use. He said he used some of the money to "play the numbers game." He worked for the Southern Produce company in Mansfield.

Arrested last night by Sheriff Frank E. Robinson on a secret indictment charging non-support, Walter Kumisarek, 30, Fifth avenue, was held today in the county jail.

Prosecutor Harold Lutz said the defendants named in indictments who were not arraigned yesterday will be taken before Judge Huston next Friday morning.

Two men had received 10-day suspended jail sentences today in probate court after pleading guilty to charges of neglecting to provide for their families.

They were Curtis Flood, 21, of Mansfield R. D. 3, and Milo Hamilton, 36, of 219 Coul street. Flood was ordered to pay $7 a week for the support of two children, while Judge Stuart H. Cramer told Hamilton to turn his pay checks over to his wife. He was placed on probation to Ralph Carroll, county juvenile officer.

LEADERS TRY FOR PASSAGE BY SENATORS

Administration Takes Sharp Defeat In Approval of Farm Price Veto.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Administration leaders hoped to drive the price control bill to final senate passage today after suffering a stinging defeat in adoption of the Bankhead amendment giving the secretary of agriculture veto power over fixing of farm prices.

Fate of the price control measure looked as the biggest legislative concern of the White House, anxious to combat steadily rising prices.

The senate late yesterday voted 48 to 37 to give Secretary of Agriculture Wickard authority to veto agricultural product prices fixed by the price administrator. The action was taken despite a public statement by President Roosevelt in opposition.

The administration today was fighting the amendment by Sen. Taft, (R.) Ohio, placing price control in the hands of a board instead of a single administrator.

Democratic Leader Barkley, however, predicted defeat of the Taft amendment and passage of the bill.

The Bankhead amendment, supported by major farm organizations, was modified by its sponsor, Sen. Bankhead (D.), Ala. Before the final vote as adopted, it awarded veto power over agricultural products. As originally proposed it included processed products as well.

Party lines were broken on the vote. The roll call was taken with President Edward O'Neal, of the American Farm Bureau federation, and other farm organization heads sitting in the gallery, tabulating the votes.

Republican Leader McNary joined Sen. George (D.), Ga., and other administration senators in supporting the Bankhead amendment. McNary, however, had urged the modification proposed by Bankhead.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D.), Wyo., pressed an amendment prohibiting fixing of prices on agricultural commodities below the "current emergency war parity price."

Under his proposal, farm prices would be linked to wages. While wage fixing was omitted from the bill, O'Mahoney maintained there is danger of the farmer suffering as a result of rising prices on things he buys, caused in part by high wages paid in industry.

WORKS ON TASK

Committee Allocating Tires to County Districts.

The county advisory committee on tire rationing today tackled the difficult job of allocating to the various communities and sections of the country their respective shares of the county tire and tube allotment for January.

James Bailey, county co-ordinator of rationing and chairman of the Mansfield tire board, presided at the meeting. Richland county's January quota is 61 tires and 31 tubes for passenger cars, light trucks and motorcycles, and 119 tires and 99 tubes for heavy trucks and buses.

Informed about reports from Cincinnati that some dealers there were charging exhorbitant prices for used or rec tioned tires, Bailey said that the board here had received no complaints of this sort.

A. F Sommer, Hamilton county tire rationing co-ordinator, said one dealer sought to charge $26 for a recapping job involving tires that could have been bought new for $28. "Something will have to be done if that sort of thing continues," Sommer said.

WIDOW, THREE CHILDREN BURN

Fourth Child Escapes When Flames Trap Family In Ohio Home.

(By Associated Press)

GREENFIELD — Flames trapped a widowed mother and three of her children as they slept last night in their modest one and a half story frame house but a fourth child escaped death by breaking a window and leaping to the snow-covered ground.

The dead are Mrs. Charles Benson, 48, mother of 11 children; John, 6, Josephine, 10, and Luverll, 14.

Frances, 12, only other occupant of the home, received only a slightly cut finger in escaping through the window in near-zero temperature.

There was wide-spread conjecture over origin of the fire. Police opened an investigation.

A son-in-law of the dead woman, Charles Clouser, expressed belief that defective wiring was the cause. Firemen said several neighbors reported hearing an explosion just before the blaze. Another theory was that the fire started from an overheated stove.

The dead woman's husband, Charles, 70, died last March. He was a retired farmer. A married daughter, Mrs. Iva Manns, lives in Springfield.

GIVES TALK AT DINNER MONDAY

Standard Oil Official to Speak At Meeting of Foremen.

Dr. W. P. Edmonds, manager of industrial relations for the Standard Oil company, will speak at a dinner meeting of the Mansfield-Shelby Foremen's club at the Mansfield-Leland hotel Monday night when the club returns to the city for its monthly session after two meetings in Shelby and Ashland.

Dr. Edmonds will speak on "Collective Bargaining." He is a northern Ohio director of the Office of Production Management and spends a large part of his time on labor and management problems

The dinner meeting will get under way at 6:30 p. m., in the hotel ballroom. Musical entertainment will be in charge of club members from the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

EIGHT, CARRIED FROM MINE, DEAD

Workers Trapped by Explosion and Flames in Silver Shaft.

SILVERTON, Colo — (INS) — Eight men carried from the shaft of the "Pride of the West" silver mine, where they were trapped by an explosion and fire, were pronounced dead early today when first aid crews who worked over them with respirators for four hours gave up hope of saving their lives.

The miners, working 3,000 feet within the mine, were trapped by an oil explosion in the shaft house. Fire burned through supporting timbers and blocked the mine's only exit. They were brought out singly by rescue crews who donned gas masks to enter the smoke filled shaft.

ONLY 96 SAVED

VICHY —(INS)— Of 360 crew and passengers aboard the French steamer Lamoriciere, sunk en route from Africa to a French port, only 96 were saved, it was reported today.

GERMAN HIGH COMMAND EATS WORDS ON RUSSIAN CAMPAIGN

By FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
(World Wide News Analyst)

A swift trip backwards through the Russian campaign unearths a surprising number of official German words which are now being gulped down by the fuehrer's high command.

To take only the sectors most prominent in the news today, here are a few:

Leningrad, Sept. 9, 1941: "It is surrounded, isolated from the rest of Russia, is being attacked by every military means at German's command and should be taken within a reasonable space of time."

Bryansk-Vyazma, Oct. 9, 1941: "Here the last fully able Russian armies of the entire Soviet front, without any leadership, are facing annihilation. . . . The Soviet Union is militarily finished."

Sevastopol, Nov. 16, 1941: "The fall of this Crimean naval base is just a question of time."

Today, however, the siege of Leningrad is practically lifted; those "annihilated" Red armies of Bryansk and Vyazma have risen from the snows and actually are a deadly menace to the Germans on that very line where they were supposed to have been utterly destroyed; the Nazi besiegers of Sevastopol in the western Crimea are on the defensive, threatened not only by the garrison of the naval base but also on their flank by a powerful assault from the Russian forces which have stormed and recaptured the eastern Crimea from the sea.

It is on the central front—no longer, in fact, the "Moscow front," that the most astonishing German reverses have taken place. The German line, which less than two months ago resembled a clamp fastened loosely about Moscow, has been turned inside out. It now takes the shape of a spraddled hairpin, the head looped around the town of Mozhaisk, the legs spreading northwest and southwest.

Dr. Otto Dietrich is fully justified in declaring today that Germany's military operations "have entered an extremely serious and indeed critical phase."

It was he whom I quoted in paragraph four—in re Bryansk-Vyazma: . . . "Here the last fully able armies of the entire Soviet front, without any leadership, are facing annihilation . . . The Soviet Union is militarily finished."

OFFERS PLAN

McGregor Favors 10 Payments For Income Tax.

A bill which would permit persons who owe more than $10 income tax to pay their tax in 10 monthly installments was introduced in congress yesterday by Congressman J. Harry McGregor, representing Richland county and the 17th district.

Congressman McGregor proposed that the first tax payment would fall due March 15, as under the present set-up, and the rest of the tax could be paid monthly through the remaining nine months of the year.

Since income taxes will be much higher this year than in the past, Congressman McGregor said the plan would relieve the taxpayer's burden "considerably" without delaying the war program.

LOSS $150,000 IN OFFICE FIRE

Flames Destroy Building, Gut St. Paul Athletic Club.

ST. PAUL, Minn. —(INS)— Damage was estimated at $150,000 today in a fire which brought death to three firemen and destroyed a two-story downtown office building and gutted the adjoining St. Paul Athletic club.

Club members said they heard a "muffled explosion," followed by smoke seeping through the floor.

Authorities withheld comment on the cause of the fire, said to have been the greatest St. Paul blaze in a decade.

12 More Private Clubs Lose Liquor Licenses In Ohio

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Continuing a drive to eliminate slot machines from private clubs holding liquor licenses, the state liquor board today suspended 12 more permits for their unexpired terms.

The new suspensions raised to 38 the number of clubs affected this week in the board's anti-gambling campaign ordered by Liquor Director Jacob B. Taylor.

The board acted despite a plea at earlier hearing by William P. Weatherall, former Zanesville mayor and fiscal officer of the Eagles lodge, for a more lenient policy to prevent what he termed a "locker system" under which club members store liquor in their lockers and thus escape the board's jurisdiction.

Eagles lodges having private club licenses suspended for unexpired terms for display of slots on the premises were those at Lebanon, Franklin, Manchester, Batavia and Georgetown.

The Moose lodge of Miamisburg also had its licenses suspended on similar charges.

NEW ASSISTANT MANAGER NAMED

Lima Montgomery Ward Employe Takes Post In Mansfield.

Appointment of J. J. Rowles, formerly merchandise manager of the Montgomery Ward store in Lima, as assistant manager of the company's store, was announced today by D. M. Dunbar, manager.

Prior to assuming his Lima position, Rowles was connected with firms in New Orleans, Columbus, and Kansas City. He is married and has one daughter, and will reside in Mansfield on Park avenue west.

Rowles succeeds L. K. Akers, of 101½ Vennum avenue, who resigned his position to enlist in the navy. Akers entered the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill., several days ago.

JAPS BEGIN BIG DRIVE ON U. S. LUZON FORCES

theory, are deployed in the thickly wooded mountainous terrain over the northern portion of the Batan peninsula. Outposts were thought to be stationed along the borders of Pampangas province and possibly in the southern portion of Zambales province, which includes Theolongapo naval station and Subic bay.

Such an arrangement would give MacArthur's forces their shortest line since the campaign began, and consequently a deadly concentration of firing power.

Experts also pointed out that the defense units probably have stationed large gun installations at strategic points in the mountains, adding that the rugged Batan ranges also may prevent use of mechanized equipment by the Japs and make their air supremacy less effective.

Withdrawal of the American-Filipino soldiers from points farther out in Pampangas probably foiled an earlier assault, experts explained. Such a move forced the Japs to realign their troops.

War department spokesmen acknowledged the probability of Japanese assault at all points, including the fortified islands of Manila bay.

Corregidor and its surrounding strongholds guarding entrance to the bay, went without a bombing raid for a second successive day.

Authorities expressed belief that Jap aircraft were being prepared for a withering blast upon Corregidor in conjunction with the attack in northern Batan. In the meantime, they said, the defending forts probably have repaired damage wrought by bombs in a five-day attack.

Importance of Corregidor and Manila bay in the Nipponese battle scheme was emphasized by military men. They asserted that the fall of Manila bay would cut MacArthur's supply lines, enable Japanese ships to ply their way to lower Batan, pinch the defending troops from north and south and complete the conquest of the Philippines.

While the nation awaited word from the battle arena, the war department reported only that fitful firing transpired on the Philippine front and that hostile air activity was limited.

The navy, however, stated that Japanese sky raiders have sent the S. S. Ruth Alexander, of the American President Lines, to the bottom off the Netherlands East Indies. One man was lost and four injured in the sinking. Naval operations, meanwhile, continued against Japan, the navy asserted, specifying activities to smash enemy submarine power.

Warns Japs Likely To Attack Australia

SYDNEY, Australia—(INS)—Warning Japan may attack Australia at any moment, former Prime Minister R. G. Menzies today lauded the commonwealth's wartime partnership with the United States but declared it is "not yet properly appreciated."

In a radio broadcast, Menzies declared Australia is closer to direct physical attack than ever before and is "almost certain" to be assaulted.

NEW COLD WAVE HITS TONIGHT

er cracked a water main on South Main street between Flint and Chestnut streets, flooding the South Main street hill.

Service-Safety Director C. M. Crafton said that the water in that section would be turned off from four to five hours but that it was hoped it would be restored by evening. Street department workers stood by ready to salt and sand the hill if the leaking water made the hill icy.

Heavy firing of furnaces and stoves against the cold was blamed for fires which destroyed three rural homes, one of them a country showplace, south and southeast of Galion yesterday. Loss was estimated at $60,000.

Largest of the residences leveled by flames was White Oaks, spacious country home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cobey on U. S. route 30-S about three miles south of Galion. Cobey was said to have spent $30,000 remodeling the home last year. Only a part of the loss was covered by insurance. Destroyed with the home were valuable linen, china, silverware, and imported furnishings. The fire was discovered about 11 a. m., but by that time it was too late to save the home.

Cobey, who is head of the Perfection Steel Body company in Galion, resides in Galion during the winter. He said he plans to rebuild the country home.

Also razed by flames were the homes of Mrs. Agnes Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hinckley at Bloominggrove. The Hinckleys were not at home when the fire broke out and they lost all the contents of their house. The blaze was discovered about noon by a neighbor.

Townspeople of Bloominggrove formed a bucket brigade and helped save most of the furnishings in the home of Mrs. Perry who lived alone.

Scientists Find Plain House Fly Is Polio Carrier

CINCINNATI —(U.P.)— Two Cincinnati scientists reported today on studies indicating that the ordinary house fly may be carrier of infantile paralysis but said that further research will be arrested because the war has halted importation of monkeys for experiments.

Dr. Albert B. Sabin and Dr. Robert Ward of the Children's Hospital Research foundation reported to Science, publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, that monkeys which had eaten flies had died of poliomyelitis. Their research covered a two-year period.

They said that infected flies came not only from unsanitary places but also from government housing projects where garbage cans had special protection.

LIST JAP LOSS

War, Navy Departments Reveal 16 Enemy Warships Sunk.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Japan's 35-day-old war on the United States has resulted in confirmed losses to her of 16 warships, five troop transports and 68 planes, a compilation of war and navy department communiques showed today.

Admitted American warship losses are one battleship, one target ship, three destroyers and a minelayer, all at Pearl Harbor. Three destroyers have been listed as "damaged" in navy reports.

EXPECT ACTION

Delegates Predict Drastic Anti-Axis Move at Meet.

SAN JUAN, P. R. —(INS)— Four delegates to the Latin-American conference in Rio De Janerio, three from Haiti and one from Uruguay, declared here today that they expect drastic anti-Axis action to come out of the Brazilian meetings.

Charles Fombrun of Haiti said: "We will aid any proposal designed to defeat the Axis. We expect to hear more than a declaration of principles."

ing to the seven-man Republican majority. Miller is a Democrat.

He said that he had retained as chairmen of each committee the councilmen who held those posts last year.

Moreover, he declared, at least two Republican councilmen had thanked him for their appointments.

The mayor's charge that he was misquoted came today when a News-Journal representative talked to him via telephone.

"Your reporter got the facts right," the mayor said, "but the paper misquoted me."

He had conversed on other city matters earlier, but immediately after making that statement he hung up the receiver.

When The News-Journal representative called back to learn just what the misquotation had been, the mayor said:

"I don't want to talk about it. If you keep asking me about it, I'm going to hang up."

When the representative started to ask another question, the mayor again hung up.

The only statement attributed to the mayor yesterday was:

"I never interfere with council. That's the legislative body. I'm the administrative. I have nothing to do with it."

HITLER PRESS ADMITS DANGER

Says Military Operations Reach Critical Phase; Russians Advance.

sweeping wide to engulf and finally "annihilate" trapped Russian forces, today's dispatches pictured the Germans as suffering the same fate.

On the Leningrad front, Russian columns driving down the Volkhov river reported advancing upon the big German base at Novgorod, 120 miles southwest of Leningrad, in an encirclement move which might cut off the Nazi siege armies before Leningrad itself.

In the Crimea, the Germans faced a similar encirclement by Russian troops now pouring into the Black Sea peninsula in great numbers.

The extent of Soviet landing operations in the Crimea were illustrated by a German high command report that Nazi planes in new attacks had sunk a 4,000-ton Russian troop transport and damaged three merchant ships and a cruiser in the Black Sea waters.

The high command said the transport, the cruiser and two of the merchant ships were bombed in attacks at Sevastopol, where the long-besieged Russian garrison now has broken German lines and started a heavy counter-offensive. The other merchant ship was attacked off Feodosiya, where other Soviet forces have landed.

Dr. Otto Dietrich, Hitler's press chief, took a grave view of the six-months-old conflict in an article published in all German newspapers—one of the first official intimations the German people have received that their armies were suffering a near-catastrophic defeat.

Pessimistic expressions may be part of a German propaganda campaign, intended to slacken Allied war resolve through the implication that the grey legions already are far gone, but a sentence, at least, was for consumption at home as well as abroad.

"Hitler will know how to overcome this crisis," Dietrich said.

Axis newspapers and Berlin and Rome communiques alike have not mentioned the fall of a single city since it was admitted Nov. 29 that the Germans were withdrawing from the Don river port of Rostov, dispatches from Bern reported.

Kerch, Kaluga, Kalinin, Volokolamsk, Vysokoe, Volkovo—these are a few of the hundreds of towns which Soviet troops have claimed gain in the 43-day period. German reports generally stress bitter weather conditions and defensive fighting on only broadly outlined fronts.

The advance to Mosalsk, driving deeper the southern blade of the Mozhaisk encirclement scythes, represented a four-mile-a-day gain since the capture of Kaluga, 110 miles southwest of Moscow, was announced New Year's day.

On the North African war front, British headquarters reported that the Axis retreat from Agedabia, 320 miles west of the Egyptian-Libyan frontier, had now become so rapid that advanced British columns were unable to "bring the enemy to action."

Only German and Italian rearguards, covering the main retreat, offered opposition, the communique said.

Meanwhile, London military observers said an Axis attempt to invade the island of Malta, British stronghold in the central Mediterranean, might be imminent.

Premier Mussolini's high command reported a violent new assault on the island, which serves as a base for aid and naval attacks on Axis reinforcements en route to North Africa, and said heavy enemy damage was inflicted.

The British radio declared the island's defenders had undergone more than 200 air raids in the past five weeks.

Told To Deny Signs Of Coup In Berlin

STOCKHOLM—(U.P.)—All Swedish correspondents in Berlin have been requested authoritatively to deny that any signs of an impending or imminent coup are visible there, well informed quarters said today.

At the same time it was made known that three "traitors" had been executed yesterday at Berlin.

One was charged with illegal possession of a store of arms.

Informants said German authorities were treating with surprising seriousness the rumors published abroad that the German government was taking measures to prevent an uprising in Berlin.

The Nazi propaganda ministry, which usually has dismissed such rumors with a few contemptuous words, this time emphatically denied the coup rumors twice, once Thursday and once yesterday.

Germans Angered At Swedish Regulation

BASLE, Switzerland—(INS)—The Swiss newspaper National Zeitung reported today that the ire of German official circles has been aroused against Sweden because Germans in Sweden have been forbidden to export clothing to Germany.

The paper said clothing exports to the Reich were prohibited under terms of a general Swedish law banning all exports of textiles.

GET FILM, WORD PICTURE OF LIFE IN U. S. FLYING SERVICE

Plans of two Mansfielders for a group enlistment of youths from this area in the U. S. Army air corps proceeded today after a meeting in which more than 100 youths from Mansfield and nearby cities were given a film and word picture of life in the flying service by Major J. L. Zimmerman of the U. S. air corps.

He told the group the air corps presented an excellent opportunity for a career, whether a pilot remained in the army after the war or turned to commercial aviation.

Stressing the prime importance of the airplane in modern warfare, he recounted for the United States has hiked its quota from 12,000 to 30,000 new pilots a year, and was now boosting that figure again to a record total which he indicated might be as high as 20,000 a month.

Many of the youths present learned, from Major Zimmerman's statement of requirements, that they were not eligible for the air corps for various reasons. Major obstacles for the group were the 20-to-26 age limits and the required 20-20 vision without glasses.

Thirty members of the group obtained enlistment application blanks, however, thus raising the possibility that if the usual proportion pass their examinations there may be a Mansfield unit of some 15 to 20 members in the Air corps.

Four youths present at the meeting reported to Major Zimmerman that they had sufficient college credits and will proceed to take their examinations at the first opportunity, the Air Corps officer said. Some others among the 30 expect to enlist for other service in the Air Corps, rather than wait for the opportunity to try for a commission.

The majority of the group, however, will begin immediate study preparatory to taking a three-day mental examination in Cleveland, starting Feb. 10. They first will take a physical examination on Feb. 9.

P. H. Downs, a veteran of World War No. 1, who assisted in making preparations for last night's meeting, said he would confer with J. R. Harrington, Mansfield airport manager, relative to providing a "refresher course" for the group at the airport.

Also active in making arrangements for the meeting was Bernard P. Brown, 22, son of Mr and Mrs. Stephen J. Brown, of 41 Baldwin avenue, who will be in the first group to enlist.

The meeting opened with singing of the national anthem and presentation of the colors by the color guard from McVey Post American Legion. Earl Saltzgaber, past commander of the post, presided and introduced Major Zimmerman.

RESUMES WORK

War Relief Society to Elect, Map 1942 Program.

Mansfield chapter of British War Relief will re-organize at a called meeting next week when officers will be elected and a program for 1942 determined.

Action to continue as an organization next year was taken by the chapter at its January session in the Community Fund office last night, but fund-raising drives and money-making projects will be curtailed in view of the national emergency.

Louis J. Ott, president of the chapter since it was organized one year ago, advised the chapter he would be unable to continue in office due to the pressure of war time business.

Since its organization the chapter has raised $9,271 through memberships, gifts, and several benefits, Paul Eliot, treasurer, reported.

Miss Margaret McLean, production chairman, announced that 1,500 knitted garments had been completed and shipped to Britain.

WAR THEME TO BE BASIS OF SUNDAY SERMON

"God and a World at War' to Be Subject Discussed By Rev. E. G. Corwin.

"God And A World At War" will be Rev. E. G. Corwin's sermon topic tomorrow at 10:30 worship services in the First Methodist church. Guest soloist Paul Smith will sing "Beyond the Stars" by James, and the choir will sing the anthem "As Christ Upon the Cross."

The following circles of the W.S.C.S. will meet at 2 p. m. Thursday: Circle One, at the home of Mrs. O. G. Place, 100 Glenwood boulevard; Circle Two, at the home of Mrs. Della Bloor, 121 West Second street; Circle Three, at the home of Mrs. I. M. Palmer, 324 West Fourth street; and Circle Four at the home of Mrs. Frank Rudd, 66 Glenwood boulevard.

The Agenda class will hold a covered-dish dinner in conjunction with its quarterly business meeting at 1 p. m. Tuesday at the church; and the adult department of teachers and officers will meet at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Minister To Talk On 'Throwing Stones'

"Throwing Stones" will be Rev. A. L. Linder's sermon subject at 10:30 a. m. worship services in the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow. Special music for the services includes the solo "Come, Ye Blessed" by Scott, sung by Glen Rodey; and the anthem "The King of Love My Shepherd Is."

Activities of the week include: Samaritan class, 2 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Sherman Skaggs, 283 Park avenue west; Circle Three, covered dish dinner at 6:30 p. m. in the church; Woman's union, 10 a. m. Friday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Linder at 68 Sherman avenue and Senior choir rehearsal, 7:30 p. m. Friday in the church, followed by a social at the home of Evangeline and Mamie Williams, 64 Wood street.

Church Councilmen To Be Installed

Viewing the present emergency from the Christian's resources, Rev. Herman L. Gilbert, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran church, will speak at the 10:30 a. m. worship service tomorrow on "The Power To See It Through." During the service, five newly-elected church councilmen will be formally installed.

Meetings scheduled for the coming week are: the Guild, Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Burns, 250 Rae avenue; Thursday Nighters, 6:30 p. m. Thursday at the church for a dinner and program.

Last Thursday approximately 100 members attended the annual Family Night dinner and program, hearing organizational reports for the past year.

For the third consecutive year, the congregation of St. Paul's church will be named on the honor roll of the Lutheran Synod of Ohio for meeting an increasing portion of the church benevolence program, according to Rev. H. L. Gilbert, pastor.

DRAWS BLANKS FROM THE ARMY

Orchestra Leader Gets Envelopes But No Messages.

CAMBRIDGE —(INS)—Orchestra Leader Charles Bennett, waiting to be called for military service, was in a quandary today. He has drawn two "blanks" from the war department.

Bennett, recently released from the army at Camp Lee, Va., received an envelope from the war department but there was nothing inside. He took it to his draft board, which contacted Washington. Now the bewildered Bennett has received a second war department envelope, but all that it contained was a blank piece of paper.

Just where that leaves Bennett, he doesn't know.

Monday; Holy Communion, 11:30 a. m. Thursday; Council of Grace Episcopal church women, 12:30 p. m. Thursday and choir rehearsals at the usual time.

Sermon, Musical Program Announced

"The Importance of Self-knowledge" will be Rev. D. N. Roller's sermon subject at 10:45 a. m. worship services tomorrow in the First Presbyterian church. Holy Communion will be administered during this service.

Leo Hans will sing the offertory "The Tabernacle of God Is With Men," by Abbott; and the Senior choir will sing the anthem "Prayer Perfect" by Stensen. Organ music played by Mabel Zehner will include "Communion" by Torres, "Peace Be With You" by Edmundson, and "Andante" from the Fifth Symphony" by Beethoven.

Lesson-Sermon To Be On 'Sacrament'

"Sacrament" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in the Church of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

It will have for the golden text: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (I Corinthians 5:8).

Included in the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon are the following correlative passages from the Bible.

"And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight. And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment" (I John 3:22,23).

Holy Communion To Be Celebrated

Holy Communion will be administered at both morning and evening worship services tomorrow in the First Lutheran church, with Rev. G. E. Swoyer, pastor speaking on "Living Sacrifices" at the 9:45 a. m. services.

Installation of newly elected members of the church council will be held during the morning worship service, as well as the reception of new members into the church.

Announcements for the week include Sunday school at 10:45 a. m.; Luther League at 6:30 p. m.; Florence Welty Missionary society, 6:15 p. m. Monday; Fourth district, 9:30 a. m. Tuesday; Seventh district, 2 p. m. Wednesday; Brotherhood Father and Son banquet, 6:30 p. m. Tuesday; Sunday school board meeting, 7:30 p. m. Wednesday; Annual congregational meeting, 7:30 p. m. Thursday and catechism classes, Saturday morning.

First Christian Services Listed

"The Measure of A Church" will be the sermon topic of Rev. B. F. Hagelbarger at the morning worship service tomorrow in the First Christian church. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. H. H. Clingan, will sing "O Thou From Whom All Blessings Come" by Tschaikowsky.

The Christian Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m. and the annual meeting of the congregation will be held at 6:30 p. m. Friday. Reports of all organizations will be given at this covered dish dinner meeting and officers will be elected for the coming year.

The J. O. Wilcox Bible class held its January meeting at Prospect Park pavilion last Wednesday.

Pastor To Talk On 'Wise Men of 1942'

During morning worship services tomorrow in the First Congregational church Rev. Peter Young, pastor will preach on the topic "This Is the Victory." Background music for the service will include "Echo Bells" by Brewer, and "Postlude In D" by Tours, played by Mrs. Kathryn Lewis on the organ.

Thurza Hazeltine and A. L. Derr will sing the duet "Hold Thou My Hand" by Briggs, and the choir will sing "Lo, God Is Here" by Mueller.

Scheduled weekly meetings are: Pilgrim guild, 1 p. m. Tuesday at the church for a luncheon and Red Cross sewing; Sewing group, 10 a. m. Thursday at the church; Women's Association joint meeting with First Presbyterian church Women's guild, 2 p. m. Thursday.

Brethren Church Services Announced

"Where On Earth Is God?" will be Rev. R. L. Showalter's sermon subject at the 10:30 a. m. service tomorrow in the First Church of the Brethren. Special music included in the service will be the Senior choir's presentation of "For God So Loved The World."

In honor of one of their members leaving Mansfield soon for service in the armed forces, the young people of the church will hold a covered dish dinner at 6 p. m. Sunday in the church.

Other meetings for the coming week are: Women of the church, all day Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. W. Dishong on Linn road; and the O. B. F. class, Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blackledge on Sturges avenue.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1942.

Drive carefully tomorrow—and unless it's a necessary trip leave the car in the garage.

Now there's a new word that sounds like an old one—it applies to false reports that are gossiped around—"Rumortism."

Extend Usefulness of Your Car

LEAST of the things to be worried about by motorists just now is that the government will seize private cars, recently intimated as a possibility by Leon Henderson, head of the office of civilian supply.

Such a thing COULD happen—but if it ever DOES happen there will be more serious things to worry about than mere loss of a car.

Of much more present concern is the matter of making cars and tires serve through a longer time than has heretofore been considered necessary.

The condition is very real that new cars and tires cannot be purchased in the way to which people have been accustomed—nor can insurance companies replace stolen tires or those ruined in a wreck.

Motorists who have acquired the habit of trading in their old car on a new model every couple of years may be surprised to learn that, in case of necessity, every standard car built in the last decade was designed to provide satisfactory transportation for at least ten years—if given proper attention—and that the "life expectancy" of good tires is much longer than many people think—if moderate speed is observed and the tires not otherwise abused.

Recommended as normal maintenance requirements of a car are regular chassis and body lubrication; tire inflation; battery care; regular oil changes; minor tune-ups; periodic replacement of carburetor air intake cleaner screen; changes of transmission and differential lubricants and general body care.

The neglected book of "directions," which accompanies every new car, may now be dug up and consulted, as this gives an idea of correct methods of operation and special care needed for that particular car.

A considerable number of used automobiles are still on the market, for accommodation of motorists whose present car is in readiness for scrapping, but for those whose cars are still giving satisfactory service it is being strongly urged that their period of service be extended as long as possible by good care.

Red Cross Passes County Quota

PROMPT response of thousands of Mansfield and Richland county people to the call of the Red Cross for $30,000 from this county as a special emergency fund for war work, again evidences the willingness of residents of this area to give liberal financial support to this great humanitarian organization.

Whether in war or peace, it is the Red Cross that is kept in readiness to relieve suffering and render service to those in distress, but it is in times of war that its work must be vastly expanded to care for the wounded and provide supplies essential to military forces and civilians in war-ravaged parts of the world.

Also demonstrated, in connection with over-subscription of the Richland county quota, is the importance of individual and group work by a number of persons willing to give time and effort, without compensation, to public service.

Not only is capable and energetic leadership required, but there is need for many volunteer workers to conduct the canvass and perform what are sometimes unpleasant tasks. However willing the givers may be in such a campaign as has just been successfully completed, it is necessary to have a good organization, under competent direction and with a corps of enthusiastic workers.

Mansfield and Richland county have been fortunate in the quality of Red Cross personnel, both in annual membership rollcall and in the special campaign just ended, and realization of a task well done will be considered ample recompense for the time and effort devoted to this fine work.

Jail Sentences for Tire Thieves

THE IDEA of increasing the penalty for tire-stealing, with assurance of a jail sentence being imposed upon every convicted culprit, is meeting with widespread public approval.

Locally Municipal Judge Kalbfleisch has announced intention to impose maximum penalty in cases involving theft of motor vehicle tires, which includes a jail sentence with fine.

Mansfielders have been harassed by numerous tire thefts within recent months and there is likelihood—unless sterner action is taken, that this form of thievery will increase, with outlets established to dispose of stolen tires.

In addition to proposed severe penalties this would seem a proper time to work out some plan, possibly through automobile clubs, under which a standing offer of a reward would be made, payable to anyone who gives information leading to the arrest and conviction of a tire thief.

Knowledge of offer of a reward of $25 or $50 might be expected to attract interest of many people who would thus be induced to be on the lookout for suspicious persons tampering with cars, and also to cause closer scrutiny of used tires offered for sale by persons not engaged in that business.

Small individual contributions of motorists to a fund designed to finance the offer of a reward in each case of tire theft would appear to be a good investment for greater protection from this form of depredation.

Meet Higher Physical Standards

WRITING in Hygeia, Dr. Morris Fishbein casts a bright light on the controversy concerning the physical fitness of Americans.

Despite allegations to the contrary, he says, men of military age are in better condition than their forebears of similar age in 1917. Today's army rejection rate for physical reasons is approximately the same as in 1917—and at the same time standards for admittance to the army are far higher, and physical examinations given selectees are much more comprehensive.

An example of the improvement is found in the fact that army rejections for tuberculosis are about one-third the 1917 rate, despite the fact that modern diagnostic technique permits the detection of many cases which would have been overlooked 25 years ago.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK— A new wrinkle in slot machines—to this observer it's new—is a typewriter. I saw one in a 54th Street hotel the other day. You put in a dime, push the plunger, and the typewriter is yours for half an hour. What happens if it stops in the middle of a word while you are writing home for money after spending your last dime I don't know. But it's a thought.

THIS is a belated Christmas note on Judith Anderson, who is Lady Macbeth to Maurice Evans in the Shakespearean drama on Broadway. While Judith was playing the Lady Macbeth role, with blood on her hands, her friends sneaked into her apartment and completely decorated the tree. For good measure they put up several signs that read, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

THIS probably is an adaptation of a gag the boys told about the British while they were trying to keep warm at Valley Forge, but it appears to be popular in Broadway cafes.

A captured Jap sailer, so the story goes, asked of a U. S. Marine, "Why do you guys always win? . . . "We pray," the marine said . . . "So do we," the Jap exclaimed. "I know," the marine answered, "but we pray in English." Not too funny, is it.

MORE belated Christmas news: Gypsy Rose Lee's Christmas "card" was a miniature movie projector and a role of film depicting the difference between a "tease" and a "strip tease." . . . But it wasn't as naughty as it sounds.

The art director of Radio City Music Hall, Nat Karson, says he overheard two Rockettes talking about their boy friends . . . "I wish I could cure my boy friend of nervousness," one said, "especially when we go to the movies and he holds my hands." "Holding hands isn't necessarily a sign of nervousness," the other replied. "I know," said the first beauty, "but if it's a horror picture, he bites my nails."

THE first copy of Stefan Lorant's "Lincoln" has been dedicated to Kitty Carlisle—"in appreciation." It seems that Miss Carlisle taught Lorant, a Hungarian, how to speak English, and he has remained grateful. "Lincoln" is told mostly in pictures, many of which have not been previously published. Where did Lorant first meet Mis Carlisle? In Budapest . . . on a bus . . . Just the way they do in the movies.

Many Manhattan buildings have signs which say, "No loitering in hall." . . . Yet those same buildings have issued air raid instructions which suggest, "In the event of an air raid, lie down in hall."

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, Jan. 10, 1922.

Retail shoe dealers, meeting in convention in Chicago, predicted day in which women would tint toenails, with shoes permitting protruding toes.

Mrs. Henry Wagner, 78, died at her home, 149 Lexington avenue.

Discussion of site for proposed new Senior high school occupied public attention.

James Wallace wrote from Los Angeles that his health was improving in the California climate.

W. L. Gross moved from 298 West Third street to 206 South Mulberry street.

Mrs. John H. McGinty, 47, died at her home, 459 Springmill street.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, Jan. 10, 1937.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Page celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

LeRoy Parsons, 93, a Civil war veteran, died at his home after a week's illness.

Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reamsnider, 112 Glenn avenue.

Automobiles operated by Albert Veverka, Rodney Warman and William Locke were involved in an accident on Park avenue west.

Miss Fanny Smith and Riley Marietta were married in Loudonville.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On Jan. 10, 1920, the League of Nations, provided for under the Treaty of Versailles, came into existence. President Wilson of the United States was responsible for the insertion of the provisions for such an organization. The issue of joining the league entered the presidential campaign of 1920 with the Democrats favoring the step while the Republicans took an equivocal stand. The Republicans won by a large majority.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS

Education's 7-Point War Program

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Drastic streamlining of education to meet war needs and avoid the pitfalls which gave education such a setback in World war I is under way.

The wartime Magna Carta of higher education will be the 15 resolutions recently adopted by the congress of 1,000 college presidents in Baltimore. The group which will administer it and work with individual colleges and school systems will be the Office of Education wartime commission here in Washington.

Appointed By John W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education, at the request of Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, the commission already is in high gear.

SOME of the things in immediate prospect are:

1. Reduction of the college course to three and possibly two and a half years, in order to give youth its degrees and a completed education before it is called into the army or into civilian defense and wartime industries. This speedup has been going on in West Point and Annapolis for more than a year. As in the case of those institutions, six-day weeks, full summer terms, and an acceleration in all courses by stripping them of frills and nonessentials are expected to do the trick.

2. A vast expansion of military training, with full college credit for such work. There has been no hint that colleges and universities again will be converted into full-time military institutions as they were by the Student Army Training Corps in the last war. However, if it develops later that such a drastic move is necessary, the nucleus of the S. A. T. C. will be ready to again turn every fraternity house into a barracks and college campuses into armed camps.

3. A far greater emphasis on physical education with a view to building every youth into the tough physical specimen that can stand the rigors of war in the field and at home. The report that a million young men have been deferred in the draft because of physical deficiencies has been considered alarming. An analysis of these deficiencies already is being made and physical education courses will be revamped throughout to remedy them in the youngsters coming up.

4. An expansion of the Civilian Pilot Training Program and a greater emphasis of turning out both pilots and aviation mechanics. This year, 700 colleges are taking advantage of the Civilian Aeronautics Administration's C. P.T.P. and turning out pilots with good basic training at the rate of 30,000 a year. No goal has been set but it is known that the C.A.A. and the military forces would like to see this doubled and tripled.

5 Plans to provide financial aid to colleges threatened with bankruptcy and closing because of curtailed enrollment. And measures to combat the growing shortage of teachers. The draft and war industries already have taken a big slice out of enrollment and teaching staffs in high schools and colleges.

6. There will, of course, be a greater concentration on vocational education to meet the needs of a nation at war. This program is already far advanced. It is likely now that the government will be asked to finance many courses such as engineering, physics and chemistry, and that the colleges will become designated training centers for such Army and Navy personnel as the engineering corps, the chemical warfare service and the quartermaster corps.

7. The possible establishment of nursery schools on a nationwide scale to care for the small children of mothers who are in industry or war work.

Add to all this the widespread civilian morale service which is gearing education from kindergarten to doctor's thesis to the conversion from a peacetime culture to wartime economy, thought and service! The three r's are now spelling it WAR.

You Can't Be Sure

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THEY'VE had a brawl. One of those rumpuses Newlyweds are so apt to have on their first New Year together. Both of them emotionally wacky. Punch-drunk with Romance. Up-on-a-peak-and-don't-know-how-to-get-down. Ready for an explosion. Then along comes the spark. So now—

So now she has gone home to Mama. And both of them are having a wonderful time Being Sorry for themselves. But neither will give in. Or make a Fresh Start. For this time, they vow, it must be The Real Thing. Never — Never — NEVER—will they go off the Deep End again just because—

They're sorry for each other
Or mad
Or glad
Or lonesome.
NO-O-O-O-OOO!

This time it must be the Guaranteed Goods!

THEY MUST BE REALLY SURE

That they're right.

AB-SO-TIVE-LY THE RIGHT MATES

For each other. . . .
And, until they're sure.
They won't make any more
False starts.

Yes'm, that's a real letter. Written by a real girl and her honest-to-goodness husband. Written with absolute sincerity . . . and very obvious misery. And until the misery gets you by the throat, you'll probably think that I'm making an extremely silly use of valuable space. But I won't be. For such letters are neither rare nor unique . . . nor do they apply to romance and marriage alone. They apply to practically every human relationship . . . every human dream.

For we all "want to be sure" before we go ahead. We all want to be certain that there will be no more argument or uncertainty, indifference or irritation . . . kisses or kicks in the shin.

WHICH IS A COCKEYED BLUEPRINT FOR ANY PLAN.

THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS "BEING SURE" ABOUT ANY HUMAN ARRANGEMENT, WHETHER YOU'RE PLAYING IT DUO OR SINGLE.

Marriages can never be "sure" because human beings can never be "sure." No matter how intelligent or sophisticated or sincere any couple may be, they must always take into consideration their own laziness, selfishness, selfpity, peevishness, greediness, vanity, dishonesty and half-baked adolescence. They may lick every other obstacle on earth, but neither one can lick the overwhelming obstacle of his or her own self. And, he, or she, is a Cry-Baby or a Dope or a Scheming Meanie to try.

"I'VE GOTTA BE SURE."

Which is utterly cuckoo. No man or woman could succeed in any program if they started with such a premise. The thing's preposterous. Neither Life or Love can work that way. For the very things against which we so stupidly rebel are the things which bind us together.

THE VERY FLAWS WHICH ROUSE OUR IRE PROVE IN THE LONG RUN TO BE THE FOUNDATION OF OUR COMMON TOLERANCE, TENDERNESS AND TRUST.

WE DO NOT CLING TO EACH OTHER BECAUSE WE ARE ASSURED OF MUTUAL PERFECTION OR PROTECTION. WE CLING BECAUSE WE'RE BOTH IMPERFECT . . . UNHAPPY . . . BEWILDERED . . . LONELY. NEEDING EACH OTHER AS TRULY AS WE NEED THE FRIENDLY HAND OF GOD.

"I need you . . . I love you . . . God helping me I'll give you the best I have." There's the one true and sure marriage vow. If you can't commit yourself to that, you've no right asking.

Timely Editorial

Study In Patriotism.

Two items of news from widely separated points on the North American continent presented a study in patriotism.

In Anchorage, Alaska, members of the carpenters' union voted down a proposal for wage increases. They declared their unwillingness to take advantage of the war for personal gain. They voted to invest $6,000 of union funds in Defense Bonds. They know what every American should know. We can not win the war if we take time out to promote a social revolution.

In New York city pickets marched in front of a theater showing, "In Time to Come," a play based on the life of Woodrow Wilson. The employes had no dispute with the management. However, the script called for no musicians and the musicians' union is picketing in an attempt to force the theater to hire their "minimum" of four at a cost of $337 a week.

Mrs. Roosevelt and two guests refused to walk through the picket line and demanded that their money be refunded.

Another slogan should be: Let's catch up with Alaska.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Everyday Poem

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

Keep Your Past.

Keep your past. I do not care
What it was, for we
Will turn to the future, make
It what it should be.

Do pasts count? I answer that
Only as they serve
Future only then should we
The past's deeds preserve.

I shall never ask you what
Past was, how you spent
Time. If we make future glad
I shall be content.

Biggest Budget Backs War Plans As Nation Girds for Axis Defeat

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

ONE YEAR AGO President Roosevelt announced a sensational plan for sending weapons of war to all nations combatting aggressors.

Said he: "We must become the great arsenal of democracy." No longer did America's friends have to have cash to buy guns. Washingtonians promptly dubbed his plan the "lend-lease proposal."

Today America is also fighting aggressors. In his "state of the Union" speech Tuesday the president emphasized that America would continue to be the arsenal of democracies, including herself—and on a vastly more ambitious scale.

"It will not be sufficient for us and the other United Nations to produce a slightly superior supply of 'munitions" to that of the Axis powers, he said. "The superiority of the United States in munitions and ships must be overwhelming—so overwhelming that the Axis nations can never hope to catch up with it."

As examples he said that in the next two years the U. S. must produce:

	1942	1943
Planes	60,000	125,000
Tanks	45,000	75,000
Anti-Aircraft Guns	20,000	35,000
Tons Shipping	8,000,000	10,000,000

In looking over those figures, remember that experts credit Nazi Germany with having no more than 8,500 serviceable warplanes now. Also note that the shipping America is scheduled to build exceeds the entire tonnage of Britain's huge merchant fleet at the beginning of the war.

Slyly, FDR commented: "I rather hope all these figures I have given will become common knowledge in Germany and Japan."

The Italians admitted they were "sensational." A British commentator said: "The figures were beyond anything that we in England have been accustomed to think about."

But the president also made it clear the U. S. was going to do more than arm friendly nations (and eventually subjects in nations under Axis rule).

He said American troops would fight "wherever in the world it seems advisable to engage enemy forces. As our power and our resources are fully mobilized we shall carry the attack against the enemy—we shall hit him and hit him again wherever and whenever we can reach him."

Biggest Budget In History.

How is America to carry out this program? By enacting the biggest budget in the history of the world, FDR said. It would be three times the size of the 1918 war budget, and about eight times the size of the average budget in the years before 1940.

The total budget for the year was put at 59 billion dollars. Fifty-six of those billion would go for war purposes.

Stated more simply, America will spend about $100,000 every minute for the war expenditures if the budget is enacted.

How is the war fund to be spent? Here are samples:

18½	billion for Army
6¾	billion plus for Navy
7½	billion for Lend-Lease
1¾	billion to build merchant ships
17	billion for "supplemental items"

Non-military costs were cut a billion from the current year. Work relief costs, for instance, were cut 462 million, farm aid 263 million and aid to youth 135 million.

Where to get the money?

First, taxes. The present tax levies are expected to yield 16½ billion. On top of that FDR asked for 9 billion in new taxes, two of them in the form of added Social Security taxes. He approved of almost any kind of new taxes to raise the other 7 billion except a general sales tax. Thus by taxes (Social Security taxes do not count as revenue) he hopes to raise about 23½ billion to defray the expected outlay of 59 billion.

That is 35½ billion less than enough. This difference, he said, will have to be borrowed, largely by the sale of defense savings bonds. This borrowing will raise the treasury's debt above 110 billion dollars by the end of 1943.

Abroad

War of Movement.

Hitler's forces are now retreating so precipitously—from Leningrad to the Crimea—that it is questionable if they can dig in where he intended. The Soviet newspaper Izvestia, which earlier had talked only of driving Germans from Russia, suddenly raised its sights and declared:

"We must force the Germans to retreat until Germany becomes the battlefield."

That Germans actually fear such a possibility is seen in unverified reports via Stockholm that Germans are building a line of fortifications in Poland.

British observers got in a lick by predicting that the British would cooperate with Russia next Spring by invading Nazi-occupied France when the Germans attempt their promised new drive for Russia.

Who's the Cat?

As news seeped out that Vichy was worrying Germany by its new spunkiness in rejecting full collaboration, observers wondered if Nazis were playing a cat-and-mouse game to keep the U. S. from breaking relations with Vichy.

Britons have long been suspicious of reports that Vichy was breaking with Germany. But for the first time in months British newsmen are taking seriously reports of a Nazi-Vichy rift. One wrote that "Hitler's Mediterranean plans were frustrated by Vichy's inflexible refusal to join the Axis."

U. S. Bombers Appear.

With the fall of Manila—which had flown the American flag for 43½ years—U. S. and Philippine forces under General MacArthur backed into the mountainous Batan sector northwest of Manila. Their right flank was protected by a delta, their left by mountains.

In Washington the United Nations war councils sought to use every minute bought with the lives of MacArthur's men to bolster Singapore and the Dutch Indies. A sign that reinforcements were on the way was seen when American bombers scored three direct hits on an enemy battleship and sank a destroyer.

One-Minute Test.

1. What is the minimum age for a member of the United States house of representatives?
2. What strait separates Alaska from Asia?
3. Germany under Hitler's regime is known as the "Third Reich"; what were the first and second Reichs?

Words of Wisdom.

Duty and today are ours, results and futurity belong to God. —Horace Greeley.

Hints on Etiquette.

A baked potato is correctly eaten by breaking it in half with the fingers, scooping all the inside onto the plate, and then mixing butter, salt and pepper in it with the fork. If you prefer to eat skin and all, it is permissible to cut the peel with the knife if it is tough.

One-Minute Test Answers.

1. Twenty-five.
2. Bering strait.
3. The empire was the first; the post-war republic the second.

As Others See It

Timely Thought.

It is no crime to be stupid. The crime is to keep a stupid man on the job to endanger better men.—Akron Beacon-Journal.

Sounds Familiar

About the big highway graft scandal uncovered on the Burma Road we don't know whether to say "How dreadful" or "How American."—Detroit News.

Quotes

Paul McNutt, federal security administrator: "If the Philippines are saved, it will be by the skill and ingenuity of Douglas MacArthur and by the Grace of God—not by any wisdom and foresight of American policy. . . ."

Alben W. Barkley, Senate majority leader, marked off the fall of Manila as inevitable: "We have steeled ourselves to expect some temporary reverses until the full force of our power has been developed."

People

Bomber's Early Booster.

Billy Mitchell was talking. The time: 1925.

"An air force could reduce our Pacific Islands easily."

"You say Japan could take the Philippines and Hawaii?" asked Rep. Reid of Illinois.

"Of course," Mitchell replied. He said it would take the Japs about two weeks.

At still another time he enraged army and navy officials by saying: "The navies are as obsolete as the knights in armor."

It was his contention—which many other U. S. militarists spoofed—that a few bombers could sink a battleship.

Mitchell had been U. S. army air chief in the World war. His outspoken opinions brought first his demotion from brigadier general to colonel and later his court-martial. He was suspended for five years in 1925.

In the past five weeks events have made Mitchell seem at least largely right. Japanese planes have sunk four battleships of the U. S. and Britain, and the Nipponese have seized the Philippines, Wake and Guam. On Tuesday the senate military committee recommended that the rank of brigadier general be restored to Mitchell, now dead.

Tolerance on Trial.

Many Americans had an emotional jag-on in World War I.

As a result a minister in Elk City, Okla., was tarred and feathered for promoting the World Peace League; a man accused of pro-Germanism was lynched at Collinsville, Ill., and his assaulters were tried and acquitted; a Negro minister was lynched for opposing the draft.

As World War II got under way the American Civil Liberties Union said: "Liberty in the U. S. has never rested upon firmer legal grounds. . . . The sorry record of violations of freedom in the World War is unlikely to be repeated." The outbreak of war brought no outburst of spy-hunting or vigilantism, it added. And decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court have been uniformly favorable.

Bridges' Round.

People have been trying to deport Harry Bridges, West Coast CIO leader of Australian birth, as an undesirable alien for nearly a decade. Critics call him a Communist. But proving the charge has been something else.

In a prolonged labor department hearing before Examiner Dean Landis of Harvard the effort failed in 1939.

Last year, after a law had been passed making aliens deportable if they had ever belonged to subversive organizations, a new effort was made. It succeeded, before Justice Department Inspector Charles B. Sears.

Round three was concluded on Monday with Bridges getting the nod. The board of immigration appeals reversed the recommendation of Sears, proposed the proceedings be dropped. After that, the final decision rested with Attorney General Biddle. Bridges disclosed that he would seek United States citizenship immediately.

ASHLAND SETS UP FIVE TIRE RATION BOARDS

Newton Mansfield Named to Head Groups In County.

ASHLAND — Ashland county has been divided into five tire rationing areas by Newton Mansfield, county co-ordinator.

The five districts are Ashland city, Loudonville, which will include Loudonville and Green Hanover and Lake townships, Hayesville, which will include Hayesville, Jeromesville and Mifflin and Mohican, Vermilion and Mifflin townships.

Polk, which will include Polk and Savannah and Ruggles, Troy, Sullivan, Clear Creek, Jackson and Orange townships, and Rural, which will include Milton, Perry and Montgomery township.

Boards have already been named in all these districts with the exception of Polk. They are: Ashland city, Edgar Koenf, P. M. Chrisman and P. C. Gayvard; Loudonville, Myron Oliver, Frank McClure and Ralph Oswalt; Hayesville, Leo Hawks, Howard Kitsch and Richard McCrory, and rural, William C. McKee, Charles J. Burris and F. J. Ryan.

Sixty-one truck and bus tires and 27 passenger car tires have been rationed to the county for January.

Albert Hightower, colored, Newark, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging the carrying of concealed weapons when arraigned before Common Pleas Judge H. E. Culbertson Friday. Judge Culbertson sentenced him to 90 days in jail, giving him credit for the 15 days he has already spent in the county jail since his arrest on Dec. 28, and suspended the remainder of the sentence providing that Hightower pay a fine of $100 and costs at Loudonville which he was assessed for driving while intoxicated.

The revolver which Hightower had when he was arrested was turned over to the sheriff's office.

COURT NEWS IN ASHLAND COUNTY

ASHLAND — Suit for divorce has been filed in Ashland common pleas court by Oma Dee Grive against Larry Dale Grive on grounds of wilful absence for more than three years. The plaintiff seeks restoration of her maiden name.

THEATERS

Musical Show.

Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland co-star again in another pretentious musical production, "Babes On Broadway," opening today at the Ohio. Directed by Busby Berkeley, noted for his elaborate film production numbers, the picture presents Mickey and Judy as a pair of ambitious youngsters eager to make a name for themselves on Broadway. When they decide that the only way they can achieve recognition is stage show themselves they somehow manage to do so. The two youngsters blossom out as an adroit singing and dancing team with both doing impersonations of well-known stage personalities. Fay Bainter and Alexander Woollcott appear in the film.

Modern Comedy.

"Skylark," a merry sideshow of domestic affairs starring Claudette Colbert, Ray Milland and Brian Aherne is the current attraction at the Madison. Miss Colbert is presented as the wife of Milland, an advertising executive, who decides to call it quits and do a little "skylarking" on her own hook when her husband becomes involved in big business. She chooses Brian Aherne for her companion on the expedition but reckons without Milland's pulling powers. "Mob Town," with the Dead End Kids and Little Tough Guys is the second attraction.

Gable Starred.

"Honky Tonk," Clark Gable's starring vehicle with Lana Turner, Claire Trevor and Chill Wills, opens Sunday at the Ritz. Gable plays a confidence man in the early days of the old west who wins the love of a prim beauty from Boston and converts her to his way of living. Frank Morgan is in the cast.

Southwest Saga.

An epic of the southwest after the Civil war, "Texas," the headline attraction at the Park features William Holden, Glenn Ford, Claire Trevor, George Bancroft and Edgar Buchanan, dealing with the efforts of the ranchers to get their cattle across miles of lonely country to a shipping point without losing them to rustlers. The picture presents Ford and Holden as the defenders of the range. "Three Girls About Town," the second picture, is laid in a convention hotel where Robert Benchley is manager. Joan Blondell and Binnie Barnes are in the cast.

Heavy Drama.

"Man Power," starring Edward G. Robinson, opens Sunday at the Majestic. "Pack Up Your Troubles," a Ritz brothers comedy, is the co-feature.

CRESTLINE D. OF A. LODGE HAS INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

CRESTLINE — Ethel Levy, council deputy installed newly elected officers of Good Hope Council, Daughters of America at a meeting this week.

Mrs. Fetters, councilor of Rainbow Council, Leesville, assisted by two color bearers presented the "Traveling Flag" to Mrs. William Scheiber, councilor of the local council. The flag will be taken to Mansfield for presentation by the local group to Garfield Council in that city on Jan. 30.

Talks were given by the district deputy Miss Emma Winkelfoos of Bucyrus and other guests from Bucyrus, Mansfield, Galion and Leesville.

Announcement was made of the annual inspection of Good Hope Council Feb. 12. Practice for the inspection will be held Jan. 22.

Mrs. Scheiber the retiring councilor who presided until the installation was presented a gift by Ethel Levy in behalf of the council.

Officers installed were: Mrs. Paul Wimmiller, councilor; Emma Cole, associate councilor; Mrs. William Scheiber, junior past councilor; Mrs. Homer Schwert, associate past council; Mrs. David Kershner, vice councilor; Mrs. E. H. Baker, associate vice councilor; Mrs. E. G. Smith, conductor; Mrs. John Minich, inside sentinel; Mrs. Scheiber, representative and Mrs. Wilbur McCune, alternate; and Mrs. C. E. Snyder, assistant recording secretary.

The social hour was in charge of Mrs. George Eckstein and Mrs. McCune.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1942

Drive carefully tomorrow—and unless it's a necessary trip leave the car in the garage.

Extend Usefulness of Your Car

LEAST of the things to be worried about by motorists just now is that the government will seize private cars, recently intimated as a possibility by Leon Henderson, head of the office of civilian supply.

Such a thing COULD happen—but if it ever DOES happen there will be more serious things to worry about than mere loss of a car.

Of much more present concern is the matter of making cars and tires serve through a longer time than has heretofore been considered necessary.

The condition is very real that new cars and tires cannot be purchased in the way to which people have been accustomed—nor can insurance companies replace stolen tires or those ruined in a wreck.

Motorists who have acquired the habit of trading in their old car on a new model every couple of years may be surprised to learn that, in case of necessity, every standard car built in the last decade was designed to provide satisfactory transportation for at least ten years—if given proper attention—and that the "life expectancy" of good tires is much longer than many people think—if moderate speed is observed and the tires not otherwise abused.

Recommended as normal maintenance requirements of a car are regular chassis and body lubrication; tire inflation; battery care; regular oil changes; minor tune-ups; periodic replacement of carburetor air intake cleaner screen; changes of transmission and differential lubricants and general body care.

The neglected book of "directions," which accompanies every new car, may now be dug up and consulted, as this gives an idea of correct methods of operation and special care needed for that particular car.

A considerable number of used automobiles are still on the market, for accommodation of motorists whose present car is in readiness for scrapping, but for those whose cars are still giving satisfactory service it is being strongly urged that their period of service be extended as long as possible by good care.

Red Cross Passes County Quota

PROMPT response of thousands of Mansfield and Richland county people to the call of the Red Cross for $30,000 from this county as a special emergency fund for war work, again evidences the willingness of residents of this area to give liberal financial support to this great humanitarian organization.

Whether in war or peace, it is the Red Cross that is kept in readiness to relieve suffering and render service to those in distress, but it is in times of war that its work must be vastly expanded to care for the wounded and provide supplies essential to military forces and civilians in war-ravaged parts of the world.

Also demonstrated, in connection with over-subscription of the Richland county quota, is the importance of individual and group work by a number of persons willing to give time and effort, without compensation, to public service.

Not only is capable and energetic leadership required, but there is need for many volunteer workers to conduct the canvass and perform what are sometimes unpleasant tasks. However willing the givers may be in such a campaign as has just been successfully completed, it is necessary to have a good organization, under competent direction and with a corps of enthusiastic workers.

Mansfield and Richland county have been fortunate in the quality of Red Cross personnel, both in annual membership rollcall and in the special campaign just ended, and realization of a task well done will be considered ample recompense for the time and effort devoted to this fine work.

Jail Sentences for Tire Thieves

THE IDEA of increasing the penalty for tire-stealing, with assurance of a jail sentence being imposed upon every convicted culprit, is meeting with widespread public approval.

Locally Municipal Judge Kalbfleisch has announced intention to impose maximum penalty in cases involving theft of motor vehicle tires, which includes a jail sentence with fine.

Mansfielders have been harassed by numerous tire thefts within recent months and there is likelihood, unless sterner action is taken, that this form of thievery will increase, with outlets established to dispose of stolen tires.

In addition to proposed severe penalties this would seem a proper time to work out some plan, possibly through automobile clubs, under which a standing offer of a reward would be made, payable to anyone who gives information leading to the arrest and conviction of a tire thief.

Knowledge of offer of a reward of $25 or $50 might be expected to attract interest of many people who would thus be induced to be on the lookout for suspicious persons tampering with cars, and also to cause closer scrutiny of used tires offered for sale by persons not engaged in that business.

Small individual contributions of motorists to a fund designed to finance the offer of a reward in each case of tire theft would appear to be a good investment for greater protection from this form of depredation.

Meet Higher Physical Standards

WRITING in Hygeia, Dr. Morris Fishbein casts a bright light on the controversy concerning the physical fitness of Americans.

Despite allegations to the contrary, he says, men of military age are in better condition than their forebears of similar age in 1917. Today's army rejection rate for physical reasons is approximately the same as in 1917—and at the same time standards for admittance to the army are far higher, and physical examinations given selectees are much more comprehensive.

An example of the improvement is found in the fact that army rejections for tuberculosis are about one-third the 1917 rate, despite the fact that modern diagnostic technique permits the detection of many cases which would have been overlooked 25 years ago.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK— A new wrinkle in slot machines—to this observer it's new—is a typewriter. I saw one in a 54th Street hotel the other day. You put in a dime, push the plunger, and the typewriter is yours for half an hour. What happens if it stops in the middle of a word while you are writing home for money after spending your last dime I don't know. But it's a thought.

THIS is a belated Christmas note on Judith Anderson, who is Lady Macbeth to Maurice Evans in the Shakespearean drama on Broadway. While Judith was playing the Lady Macbeth role, with blood on her hands, her friends sneaked into her apartment and completely decorated the tree. For good measure they put up several signs that read, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

THIS probably is an adaptation of a gag the boys told about the British while they were trying to keep warm at Valley Forge, but it appears to be popular in Broadway cafes.

A captured Jap sailer, so the story goes, asked of a U. S. Marine, "Why do you guys always win? . . . "We pray," the marine said . . . "So do we," the Jap exclaimed. "I know," the marine answered, "but we pray in English." Not too funny, is it.

MORE belated Christmas news: Gypsy Rose Lee's Christmas "card" was a miniature movie projector and a role of film depicting the difference between a "tease" and a "strip tease." . . . But it wasn't as naughty as it sounds.

The art director of Radio City Music Hall, Nat Karson, says he overheard two Rockettes talking about their boy friends . . . "I wish I could cure my boy friend of nervousness," one said, "especially when we go to the movies and he holds my hands."

"Holding hands isn't necessarily a sign of nervousness," the other replied. "I know," said the first beauty, "but if it's a horror picture, he bites my nails."

THE first copy of Stefan Lorant's "Lincoln" has been dedicated to Kitty Carlisle—"in appreciation." It seems that Miss Carlisle taught Lorant, a Hungarian, how to speak English, and he has remained grateful. "Lincoln" is told mostly in pictures, many of which have not been previously published. Where did Lorant first meet Mis Carlisle? In Budapest . . . on a bus . . . Just the way they do in the movies.

Many Manhattan buildings have signs which say, "No loitering in hall." . . . Yet those same buildings have issued air raid instructions which suggest, "In the event of an air raid, lie down in hall."

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Tuesday, Jan. 10, 1922.

Retail shoe dealers, meeting in convention in Chicago, predicted day in which women would tint toenails, with shoes permitting protruding toes.

Mrs. Henry Wagner, 78, died at her home, 149 Lexington avenue.

Education's 7-Point War Program

—By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Drastic streamlining of education to meet war needs and avoid the pitfalls which gave education such a setback in World war 1 is under way.

The wartime Magna Carta of higher education will be the 15 resolutions recently adopted by the congress of 1,000 college presidents in Baltimore. The group which will administer it and work with individual colleges and school systems will be the Office of Education wartime commission here in Washington.

Appointed By John W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education, at the request of Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, the commission already is in high gear.

SOME of the things in immediate prospect are:

1. Reduction of the college course to three and possibly two and a half years, in order to give youth its degrees and a completed education before it is called into the army or into civilian defense and wartime industries. This speedup has been going on in West Point and Annapolis for more than a year. As in the case of those institutions, six-day weeks, full summer terms, and an acceleration in all courses by stripping them of frills and non-essentials are expected to do the trick.

2. A vast expansion of military training, with full college credit for such work. There has been no hint that colleges and universities again will be converted into full-time military institutions as they were by the Student Army Training Corps in the last war. However, if it develops later that such a drastic move is necessary, the nucleus of the S. A. T. C. will be ready to again turn every fraternity house into a barracks and college campuses into armed camps.

3. A far greater emphasis on physical education with a view to building every youth into the tough physical specimen that can stand the rigors of war in the field and at home. The report that a million young men have been deferred in the draft because of physical deficiencies has been considered alarming. An analysis of these deficiencies already is being made and physical education courses will be revamped throughout to remedy them in the youngsters coming up.

4. An expansion of the Civilian Pilot Training Program and a greater emphasis of turning out both pilots and aviation mechanics. This year, 700 colleges are taking advantage of the Civilian Aeronautics Administration's C. P.T.P. and turning out pilots with good basic training at the rate of 30,000 a year. No goal has been set but it is known that the C.A.A. and the military forces would like to see this doubled and tripled.

5 Plans to provide financial air to colleges threatened with bankruptcy and closing because of curtailed enrollment. And measures to combat the growing shortage of teachers. The draft and war industries already have taken a big slice out of enrollment and teaching staffs in high schools and colleges.

6. There will, of course, be a greater concentration on vocational education to meet the needs of a nation at war. This program is already far advanced. It is likely now that the government will be asked to finance many courses such as engineering, physics and chemistry, and that the colleges will become designated training centers for such Army and Navy personnel as the engineering corps, the chemical warfare service and the quartermaster corps.

7. The possible establishment of nursery schools on a nationwide scale to care for the small children of mothers who are in industry or war work.

Add to all this the widespread civilian morale service which is gearing education from kindergarten to doctor's thesis to the conversion from a peacetime culture to wartime economy, thought and service. The three r's are now spelling it WAR.

You Can't Be Sure

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THEY'VE had a brawl. One of those rumpuses Newlyweds are so apt to have on their first New Year together. Both of them emotionally wacky. Punch-drunk with Romance. Up-on-a-peak-and-don't-know-how-to-get-down. Ready for an explosion. Then along comes the spark. So now—

So now she has gone home to Mama. And both of them are having a wonderful time Being Sorry for themselves. But neither will give in. Or make a Fresh Start. For this time, they vow, it must be The Real Thing. Never — Never — NEVER—will they go off the Deep End again just because—

They're sorry for each other
Or mad
Or glad
Or lonesome.
NO-O-O-O-OOO!

This time it must be the Guaranteed Goods!

THEY MUST BE REALLY SURE

That they're right.

AB-SO-TIVE-LY THE RIGHT MATES

For each other. . . .
And, until they're sure,
They won't make any more
False starts.

Yes'm, that's a real letter. Written by a real girl and her honest-to-goodness husband. Written with absolute sincerity . . . and very obvious misery. And until the misery gets you by the throat, you'll probably think that I'm making an extremely silly use of valuable space. But I won't be. For such letters are neither rare nor unique . . . nor do they apply to romance and marriage alone. They apply to practically every human relationship . . . every human dream.

For we all "want to be sure" before we go ahead. We all want to be certain that there will be no more argument or uncertainty, indifference or irritation . . . kisses or kicks in the shin.

WHICH IS A COCKEYED BLUEPRINT FOR ANY PLAN.

THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS "BEING SURE" ABOUT ANY HUMAN ARRANGEMENT, WHETHER YOU'RE PLAYING IT DUO OR SINGLE.

Marriages can never be "sure" because human beings can never be "sure." No matter how intelligent or sophisticated or sincere any couple may be, they must always take into consideration their own laziness, selfishness, selfpity, peevishness, greediness, vanity, dishonesty and half-baked adolescence. They may lick every other obstacle on earth, but neither one can lick the overwhelming obstacle of his or her own self. And, he, or she, is a Cry-Baby or a Dope or a Scheming Meanie to try.

"I'VE GOTTA BE SURE."

Which is utterly cuckoo. No man or woman could succeed in any program if they started with such a premise. The thing's preposterous. Neither Life or Love can work that way. For the very things against which we so stupidly rebel are the things which bind us together.

THE VERY FLAWS WHICH ROUSE OUR IRE PROVE IN THE LONG RUN TO BE THE FOUNDATION OF OUR COMMON TOLERANCE, TENDERNESS AND TRUST.

WE DO NOT CLING TO EACH OTHER BECAUSE WE ARE ASSURED OF MUTUAL PERFECTION OR PROTECTION. WE CLING BECAUSE WE'RE BOTH IMPERFECT . . . UNHAPPY . . . BEWILDERED . . . LONELY. NEEDING EACH OTHER AS TRULY AS WE NEED THE FRIENDLY HAND OF GOD.

"I need you . . . I love you . . . God helping me I'll give you the best I have." There's the one true and sure marriage vow. If you can't commit yourself to that, you've no right asking.

Timely Editorial

Study In Patriotism.

Two items of news from widely separated points on the North American continent presented a study in patriotism.

In Anchorage, Alaska, members of the carpenters' union voted down a proposal for wage increases. They declared their unwillingness to take advantage of the war for personal gain. They voted to invest $6,000 of union funds in Defense Bonds. They know what every American should know. We can not win the war if we take time out to promote a social revolution.

In New York city pickets marched in front of a theater showing, "In Time to Come," a play based on the life of Woodrow Wilson. The employes had no dispute with the management. However, the script called for no musicians and the musicians' union is picketing in an attempt to force the theater to hire their "minimum" of four at a cost of $337 a week.

Mrs. Roosevelt and two guests refused to walk through the picket line and demanded that their money be refunded.

Another slogan should be: Let's catch up with Alaska.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Keep Your Past.

Keep your past. I do not care
What it was, for we
Will turn to the future, make
It what it should be.

Do pasts count? I answer that

Future only then should we
The past's deeds preserve.

I shall never ask you what
Past was, how you spent
Time. If we make future glad
I shall be content.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Biggest Budget Backs War Plans As Nation Girds for Axis Defeat

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

ONE YEAR AGO President Roosevelt announced a sensational plan for sending weapons of war to all nations combatting aggressors.

Said he: "We must become the great arsenal of democracy." No longer did America's friends have to have cash to buy guns. Washingtonians promptly dubbed his plan the "lend-lease proposal."

Today America is also fighting aggressors. In his "state of the Union" speech Tuesday the president emphasized that America would continue to be the arsenal of democracies, including herself—and on a vastly more ambitious scale.

"It will not be sufficient for us and the other United Nations to produce a slightly superior supply of munitions" to that of the Axis powers, he said. "The superiority of the United States in munitions and ships must be overwhelming — so overwhelming that the Axis nations can never hope to catch up with it."

As examples he said that in the next two years' the U. S. must produce:

	1942	1943
Planes	60,000	125,000
Tanks	45,000	75,000
Anti-Aircraft Guns	20,000	35,000
Tons Shipping	8,000,000	10,000,000

In looking over those figures, remember that experts credit Nazi Germany with having no more than 8,500 serviceable warplanes now. Also note that the shipping America is scheduled to build exceeds the entire tonnage of Britain's huge merchant fleet at the beginning of the war.

Slyly, FDR commented: "I rather hope all these figures I have given will become common knowledge in Germany and Japan."

The Italians admitted they were "sensational." A British commentator said: "The figures were beyond anything that we in England have been accustomed to think about."

But the president also made it clear the U. S. was going to do more than arm friendly nations (and eventually subjects in nations under Axis rule).

He said American troops would fight "wherever in the world it seems advisable to engage enemy forces. As our power and our resources are fully mobilized we shall carry the attack against the enemy—we shall hit him and hit him again wherever and whenever we can reach him."

Biggest Budget In History.

How is America to carry out this program? By enacting the biggest budget in the history of the world, FDR said. It would be three times the size of the 1918 war budget, and about eight times the size of the average budget in the years before 1940.

The total budget for the year was put at 59 billion dollars. Fifty-six of those billion would go for war purposes.

Stated more simply, America will spend about $100,000 every minute for the war expenditures if the budget is enacted.

How is the war fund to be spent? Here are samples:

18½ billion for Army
6¾ billion plus for Navy
7½ billion for Lend-Lease
1⅝ billion to build merchant ships
17 billion for "supplemental items"

Non-military costs were cut a billion from the current year. Work relief costs, for instance, were cut 462 million, farm aid 263 million and aid to youth 135 million.

Where to get the money?

First, taxes. The present tax levies are expected to yield 16½ billion. On top of that FDR asked for 9 billion in new taxes, two of them in the form of added Social Security taxes. He approved of almost any kind of new taxes to raise the other 7 billion except a general sales tax. Thus by taxes (Social Security taxes do not count as revenue) he hopes to raise about 23½ billion to defray the expected outlay of 59 billion.

That is 35½ billion less than enough. This difference, he said, will have to be borrowed, largely by the sale of defense savings bonds. This borrowing will raise the treasury's debt above 110 billion dollars by the end of 1943.

Quotes

Paul McNutt, federal security administrator: "If the Philippines are saved, it will be by the skill and ingenuity of Douglas MacArthur and by the Grace of God—not by any wisdom and foresight of American policy. . . ."

Alben W. Barkley, Senate majority leader, marked off the fall of Manila as inevitable: "We have steeled ourselves to expect some temporary reverses until the full force of our power has been developed."

In Washington the United Nations war councils sought to use every minute bought with the lives of MacArthur's men to bolster Singapore and the Dutch Indies. A sign that reinforcements were on the way was seen when American bombers scored three direct hits on an enemy battleship and sank a destroyer.

People

Bomber's Early Booster.

Billy Mitchell was talking. The time: 1925.

"An air force could reduce our Pacific Islands easily."

"You say Japan could take the Philippines and Hawaii?" asked Rep. Reid of Illinois.

"Of course," Mitchell replied. He said it would take the Japs about two weeks.

At still another time he enraged army and navy officials by saying: "The navies are as obsolete as the knights in armor."

It was his contention—which many other U. S. militarists spoofed—that a few bombers could sink a battleship.

Mitchell had been U. S. army air chief in the World war. His outspoken opinions brought first his demotion from brigadier general to colonel and later his court-martial. He was suspended for five years in 1925.

In the past five weeks events have made Mitchell seem at least largely right. Japanese planes have sunk four battleships of the U. S. and Britain, and the Nipponese have seized the Philippines, Wake and Guam. On Tuesday the senate military committee recommended that the rank of brigadier general be restored to Mitchell, now dead.

Tolerance on Trial.

Many Americans had an emotional jag-on in World War I.

As a result a minister in Elk City, Okla., was tarred and feathered for promoting the World Peace League; a man accused of pro-Germanism was lynched at Collinsville, Ill., and his assaulters were tried and acquitted; a Negro minister was lynched for opposing the draft.

As World War II got under way the American Civil Liberties Union said: "Liberty in the U. S. has never rested upon firmer legal grounds. . . . The sorry record of violations of freedom in the World War is unlikely to be repeated." The outbreak of war brought no outburst of spy-hunting or vigilantism, it added. And decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court have been uniformly favorable.

Bridges' Round.

People have been trying to deport Harry Bridges, West Coast CIO leader of Australian birth, as an undesirable alien for nearly a decade. Critics call him a Communist. But proving the charge has been something else.

In a prolonged labor department hearing before Examiner Dean Landis of Harvard the effort failed in 1939.

Last year, after a law had been passed making aliens deportable if they had ever belonged to subversive organizations, a new effort was made. It succeeded, before Justice Department Inspector Charles B. Sears.

Round three was concluded on Monday with Bridges getting the nod. The board of immigration appeals reversed the recommendation of Sears, proposed the proceedings be dropped. After that, the final decision rested with Attorney General Biddle. Bridges disclosed that he would seek United States citizenship immediately.

War of Movement.

Hitler's forces are now retreating so precipitously—from Leningrad to the Crimea—that it is questionable if they can dig in where he intended. The Soviet newspaper Izvestia, which earlier had talked only of driving Germans from Russia, suddenly raised its sights and declared:

"We must force the Germans to retreat until Germany becomes the battlefield."

That Germans actually fear such a possibility is seen in unverified reports via Stockholm that Germans are building a line of fortifications in Poland.

British observers got in a lick by predicting that the British would cooperate with Russia next Spring by invading Nazi-occupied France when the Germans attempt their promised new drive for Russia.

Who's the Cat?

As news seeped out that Vichy was worrying Germany by its new spunkiness in rejecting full collaboration, observers wondered if Nazis were playing a cat-and-mouse game to keep the U. S. from breaking relations with Vichy.

Britons have long been suspicious of reports that Vichy was breaking with Germany. But for the first time in months British newsmen are taking seriously reports of a Nazi-Vichy rift. One wrote that "Hitler's Mediterranean plans were frustrated by Vichy's inflexible refusal to join the Axis."

ASHLAND SETS UP FIVE TIRE RATION BOARDS

Newton Mansfield Named to Head Groups In County

ASHLAND — Ashland county has been divided into five tire rationing areas by Newton Mansfield, county co-ordinator.

The five districts are: Ashland city; Loudonville, which will include Loudonville and Green, Hanover and Lake townships; Hayesville, which will include Hayesville, Jeromesville and Mifflin and Mohican, Vermilion and Mifflin townships.

Polk, which will include Polk and Savannah and Rugales, Troy, Sullivan, Clear Creek, Jackson and Orange townships and Rural, which will include Milton, Perry and Montgomery township.

Boards have already been named in all these districts with the exception of Polk. They are: Ashland city, Edgar Koehl, P. M. Chrisman, and P. C. Gayvard; Loudonville, Myron Oliver, J. Frank McClure and Ralph Oswalt; Hayesville, Leo Hawks, Howard Kirsch and Richard McCrory, and rural, William G. McKee, Charles C. Burris and F. J. Ryan.

Sixty-one trucks and bus tires and 27 passenger car tires have been rationed to the county for January.

Albert Hightower, colored, Newark, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging the carrying of concealed weapons when arraigned before Common Pleas Judge H. E. Culbertson Friday. Judge Culbertson sentenced him to 90 days in jail, giving him credit for the 15 days he has already spent in the county jail since his arrest on Dec. 28, and suspended the remainder of the sentence providing that Hightower pay a fine of $100 and costs at Loudonville which he was assessed for driving while intoxicated.

The revolver which Hightower had when he was arrested was turned over to the sheriff's office.

COURT NEWS IN ASHLAND COUNTY

ASHLAND — Suit for divorce has been filed in Ashland common pleas court by Oma Dee Grove against Larry Dale Grove on grounds of wilful absence for more than three years. The plaintiff seeks restoration of her maiden name.

Alimony and custody of two minor children is sought in a suit filed in common pleas court by Dorothea F. Pearce against Edgar R. Pearce on grounds of gross neglect.

Vacation of a judgment and equitable relief is sought in a suit filed by George R. Gault against the C. S. Garretson Lumber company. The plaintiff claims a promissory note on which the defendant corporation obtained judgment of $1,449.60 was altered, in the matter of interest, and is thus vitated and void and that the defendant company failed to issue him ten shares of stock in the company which damaged him to the extent of $2,000.

HEADS LIBRARY BOARD

ASHLAND — Edward H. Taylor has been elected president of the Ashland Public Library board succeeding Mrs. H. E. Andrews. Other officers are Mrs. W. B. Kellogg, vice president, and Robert Kopp, secretary-treasurer.

DEDICATE CHURCH

BUCYRUS — Members of the Nazarene church will dedicate their new house of worship at Warren and Iron streets Sunday with a service at 2:30 p. m. Rev. C. A. Gibson will be the dedicatory speaker.

The church, a brick structure, was completed recently, replacing the one story brick building which was built in 1934. Growth of the congregation made necessary the construction of the new larger church. Rev. L. L. Zimmerman is pastor.

GALION CLUBS MEET FRIDAY

Women's Groups Hold Series Of Socia Business Sessions

GALION — An evening of poetry, in which every member participated, was held by the St. Therese Literary club at its regular meeting Friday night at the home of Mrs. C. A. Frisl and daughter, Genevieve. Social hours followed the program. In two weeks the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles Richey.

Members of the Junior American Legion auxiliary enjoyed their monthly social meeting Friday afternoon in Soldiers and Sailors home. Mrs. Charles Tracht, Mrs. Helen Sickmiller and Mrs. Byron Lemley assisted the girls in holding the meeting.

Following contests and games which were won by Charmaine Wise, Joan Shell and Patricia Pitney, refreshments were served by Carol Ann Lemley, Joan Howman and Mary Ann Liggett. The business meeting will be held Jan. 16.

Mrs. Ida Schaffner was hostess to the Friday afternoon club and entertained with a luncheon at the Bender home. Two guests, Mrs. G. M. Badgley and Mrs. A. J. Douglas, were welcomed. Prizes in the card games that followed the luncheon were won by Mrs. Byrd J. Whittridge and Mrs. C. H. Evans.

The Builders class held its monthly business and social meeting at the United Brethren church, Friday night. A supper was served and was followed with a program. On the entertainment committee were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Eutner, Mr. and Mrs. Craven Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Orris Miller.

When Mrs. Fred Laubscher entertained the Arbutus club members she took them to the armory for a dinner served by the Welfare Relief corps. The afternoon was spent in playing cards and the high score winner was Mrs. Otto Snider. Next time the club will meet with Mrs. Clifford Mains.

Bridge was the diversion when club associates met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Ara Feifer.

Musical Show

Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland co-star again in another pretentious musical production, "Babes On Broadway," opening today at the Ohio. Directed by Busby Berkeley, noted for his elaborate film production numbers, the picture presents Mickey and Judy as a pair of ambitious youngsters eager to make a name for themselves on Broadway. When they decide that the only way they can achieve recognition is stage show, themselves they somehow manage to do so. The kid youngsters blossom out as an adroit singing and dancing team with both doing impersonations of well-known stage personalities. Kay Bainter and Alexander Woollcott appear in the film.

Modern Comedy

Skylark," a merry sidesplitting comedy of domestic affairs starring Claudette Colbert, Ray Milland and Brian Aherne, is the current attraction at the Madison. Miss Colbert is presented as the wife of Milland, an advertising executive, who decides to call it "quits" and do a little "skylarking" on her own, hoping when her husband becomes involved in big business. She chooses Brian Aherne for her companion on the expedition but reckons without Milland's pulling powers. "Mob Town" with the Dead End Kids and Little Tough Guys is the second attraction.

Gable Starred.

"Honky Tonk," Clark Gable's starring vehicle with Lana Turner, Claire Trevor and Chill Wills, opens Sunday at the Ritz. Gable plays a confidence man in the early days of the old west who wins the love of a prim beauty from Boston and converts her to his way of living. Frank Morgan is in the cast.

Southwest Saga.

An epic of the southwest after the Civil war, Texas, the headline attraction at the Park features William Holden, Glenn Ford, Claire Trevor, George Bancroft and Edgar Buchanan dealing with the efforts of the ranchers to get their cattle across miles of lonely country to a shipping point without losing them to rustlers. The picture presents Ford and Holden as the defenders of the range. "Three Girls About Town," the second picture, is laid in a convention hotel where Robert Benchley is manager. Joan Blondell and Binnie Barnes are in the cast.

Heavy Drama.

"Man Power," starring Edward G. Robinson, opens Sunday at the Majestic. "Pack Up Your Troubles," a Ritz brothers comedy, is the co-feature.

HELD BY POLICE

GALION — Wanted on an embezzlement charge, Harold Pickett is being held here by Galion police for the sheriff of Cole county, Mo. Pickett has waived extradition, and will be returned to Missouri as soon as authorities arrive for him.

Time and place for the next meeting will be announced later.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

SCORE ALL YOU CAN

TOURNAMENT bridge is exactly the same thing as rubber bridge in one respect. In either game you want to score as many points as you can. It is true that in match point duplicate play you are sometimes justified in assuming a little extra risk in order to gain a few extra points, when in rubber bridge you might not do that. Such things as trying to get into a major suit contract, instead of a minor, come under this heading.

	♠ A Q J 10 5 3 2 ♥ 6 ♦ K Q 10 7 4 ♣ None
♠ 6 ♥ K Q 7 5 3 ♦ 9 3 ♣ 8 7 5 4 3	W. N. E. S.	♠ K 8 4 ♥ J 10 8 2 ♦ 8 2 ♣ A Q 6 2
	♠ 9 7 ♥ A 9 4 ♦ A J 6 5 ♣ K J 10 9

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	East	North	West
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
3 NT	Pass	6 ♠	Dbl
Pass	Pass	Rdbl

This was the deal which decided the National Match Point Team of Four championship in the great tournament at Richmond, Va. In the North were Samuel Rossant and in the South Peter Leventritt of New York, members of the winning team whose teammates were Mrs. Albert M. Sobel, of New York and Mrs. Wilkinson Wagar, of Atlanta. The team they defeated was composed of Waldemar von Zedtwitz, S. Garton Churchill, Charles Lochridge and Lee Hazen, all of New York, and A. Mitchell Barnes, of Atlanta, Ga.

Notice how Mr. Rossant jumped to 6-Spades as soon as he made sure that his partner had the other three suits securely stopped, through having made two bids of No Trump. His redouble showed his confidence in the fact that his spade suit was so long that it would be adequate, together with his diamond length, to produce a dozen tricks.

As a consequence of that bold and clever bid, Mr. Rossant enabled his side to score 1,250 points while runners-up could count only 920 points.

Your Week-End Lesson.

In what kind of a situation is it safer to get into 7-No Trumps than in a suit grand slam?

Federation Women Hear Talk Friday By Mrs. Andrews

Guest speaker for the program given at the Women's Club Friday afternoon at 2:30 for the Federation of Women, was Mrs. Harold Andrews, of Ashland. She spoke on "The Quiet Ways of Life" and used characters from Jane Austen's books to illustrate her comments.

Reports of the standing committees were given during the business meeting. Approximately 80 members were in attendance. Tea was served following the program from a table attractively decorated with red roses.

On Thursday, Jan. 22, there will be a Federation lecture at the Ohio theater. Sam Campbell, the "philosopher of the forest," will present "Behind the Scenes In Nature." He is well known as a lecturer, author, traveler and photographer.

Wooster College Professor Talks To Nature Group

Dr. R. V. Baugham of Wooster college gave an interesting and informative talk on "Fish Hatcheries In Ohio" at the meeting of the Mansfield Nature club held Friday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Dr. Baugham explained the biology of fish and told the group that there are 157 different varieties of fresh water fish in this state.

"It is believed that the natural habitat of fish should be improved in order to do conservation work," according to Dr. Baugham. Nature club members will go on a field trip on Jan. 18. Members should meet at South park at 1:30 p. m.

SEVERAL PAPERS READ.

Topic for discussion at the meeting of the Gamma Mu Sigma Missionary society of the First Christian church last evening was "Whither World." Mrs. Adam Takos entertained the group at her home on Hedges street. The discussion was led by Mrs. Vivian Hammell. Papers were given by Mrs. Betty Flowers, Mrs. Glenn Heldenbrand and Mrs. Edith Davis. An open forum discussion followed. Refreshments were served after a short business meeting. Miss Helen Dickson will be hostess for a meeting at her home on Blanche street on Feb. 6.

Fashions

"Isn't it true the most fashionable women have that ensembled look? A dress and hat to match is smartest of all," says Marian Martin—"like this costume from Pattern 9984." The dress is a cleverly yoked shirtwaister that buttons down the front. (There are only five buttonholes to make.) Gathers of unpressed pleats are opitional at either side of the skirt to give it feminine fullness. This is echoed in the softly draped hat with the new down-in-back silhouette. Rayon shantung makes a smart ensemble; try using a vivid contrasting shade for the hat and the belt. Tab pockets and long sleeves are optional.

Pattern 9984 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 dress requires 3¼ yards 39 inch fabric; hat and belt, 1⅛ yards contrast.

Send 15 cents in coins for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Mansfield News-Journal, Pattern Department, 232 West 18th street, New York, N. Y.

Make Holiday Pleasant for Soldiers

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Boston has seemed to solve the problem of people who want to do something nice for soldiers but just don't know how to go about it. The British consulate in that town has a card index summing up the tastes of British officers and Tommies. Some like to dance; some like to play golf or bridge, and some, believe it or not, enjoy discussing art and poetry.

Special interests and talents of the men are carefully listed. A willing host or hostess calls the Consulate and says: "I would like to entertain two officers who play bridge, about 35 years of age. The invitation includes Thursday to dinner."

A check of the index quickly shows two bridge-playing officers who will be off duty on Thursday and would be delighted to accept the invitation. Others write that they would like to meet sailors from certain villages of England, from which their American ancestors came.

To make everyone happy, the British War Relief society, Bundles for Britain, Canadian Legion and the Boston Junior league are co-operating with the consulate to entertain these men. The British consul general has written:

"We are eternally grateful for the hospitality which is being shown our men. It's marvelous how the officers and men are being received and entertained."

Now why can't we be as resourceful in entertaining our own American soldiers as the Bostonians are in making things pleasant for British officers and enlisted men?

So many letters come to this column saying: "I'd like to make things pleasant for some of our enlisted men but just don't know how to go about it." Whether or not a card index is kept at our various posts or not, it might be a good thing to arrange one on the order of that one at the British consulate in Boston.

In connection with this suggestion, it's interesting to know that soldiers who were polled for holiday gift desires listed their preferences as follows: Money, cigarets, stamps, subscriptions to hometown papers, newspapers, cake, cookies, candy.

Soldiers always enjoy homemade eats prepared in home kitchens. This column will be glad to send you recipes for cakes, candies, homemade cookies, and such things as mother used to make at home.

Furloughs for many soldiers have been cut and it would be a nice and generous thing for women throughout the country to get together and whip up some good eats and send them care of the commandant to any army post in their neighborhood. The boys would love to get them, and it would make the season happier for those who can't be home this year.

HOROSCOPE

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, January 11.

Sunday's horoscope may hold portent of difficulty, disaster and sorrow as well as losses through various avenues of adverse visitation, except in the conventional spiritual or mystical vocations and avocations of the day. In all phases of calamity or misadventure this quality of tact, strategy, compromise and spiritual guidance may unite to avert or thwart dangerous situations.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year in which all success and satisfaction may depend upon their own ability to govern their own wayward tendencies and turbulent impulses. Disputes, quarrels, emotional outbursts and physical indulgences may lead to a chain of disaster, loss, suffering and humiliation. Both public and private disaster seem imminent but for unusual restraints, precautions, with finesse, tact and strategem dominate.

A child born on this day may be tempestuous, wayward, indulgent, nervous and should be given strict early training and discipline.

For Monday, January 12.

Monday's astrological forecast is for a fairly successful and pleasant state of affairs in business and with associates in employment, public or group relations, and with those from whom favors or advancement are sought. But there may be difficulties or unhappiness through females, relatives, strangers and elders. At the same time gain may be had through old persons or institutions.

Those whose birthday it is may work for promotion, favors, or preferments with moderate ambitions, but are cautioned to be tactful, discreet and use discrimination with relatives, elders and some superiors. Strangers and other contacts may disappoint while certain others fulfill many happy expectations, especially in a sentimental way. Safeguard the health and the family's.

A child born on this day may have conflicting qualities and abilities with many vicissitudes in life. Its relatives of the fair sex may cause it grief.

INTERESTING PROGRAM PRESENTED FOR CLUB

Mrs. John H. Gongwer Reviews Current Books; Mrs. F. T. Wendt Has Paper, "Life Begins With Vitamins" at Cosmopolitan Meeting.

WHEN 20 members of the Cosmopolitan club met at the Women's Club Friday afternoon, their hostess was Mrs. W. D. Osborn. A letter was read from the Mansfield Public library inviting the club to attend the Book Fair which will be held there during the next week.

Mrs. John H. Gongwer gave book notes for the program. She spoke of fashions in books and reviewed briefly some current fiction, history, biography and science books. A paper, "Life Begins With Vitamins," was given by Mrs. F. T. Wendt. She traced the discovery of the eight vitamins now known and gave their sources. The effects of the presence or lack of each also were described by Mrs. Wendt.

Next meeting will be held at the Women's Club on Jan. 23. Mrs. A. C. Butterfield will be hostess and Mrs. H. H. Shaw will present a book review.

New Officers Assume Duties For Sorority

Meeting of Omega Tau Gamma sorority was held last evening in the club room on Park avenue west. Miss Marjorie Crider, president, opened the session. New officers who assumed their duties for the year are Mary Eva Bower, president; Dorothy Hively, vice president; Mercelle Seymour, secretary-treasurer. A vote of thanks was given the retiring officers, who also were presented with gifts.

Mrs. Bower took over the meeting and appointed the following committees: social reporter, Marjorie Woodhull; assistant, Coreta Maglott; flower committee, Lucille Walters and Virginia Griffith; reception, Evelyn Lingafelter and Mary Alice Hazlett.

Plans were made to adopt a class from the Friendly House to be entertained at intervals during the year. The group also is going to work at specified times for the Red Cross. Hostesses for the social hour were Doris Darling and Esther Foote. Chief diversions of the evening were pinochle and bridge. Prizes were awarded to Rose Kibler, Corea Maglott, Martha Hamilton and Marjorie Crider.

At the close of the evening a two-course luncheon was served at a long table. Theme for the decorations was patriotic and small figures carrying American flags were given as favors. Date of the next meeting is Feb. 13. It will be held in the club rooms with the Misses Hamilton and Griffin serving as hostesses.

Meeting Held By Circle One At Mitchell Home

An evening meeting was held recently by members of Circle One of the First Presbyterian church at the home of Mrs. Frank Mitchell, 633 Coleman road. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Deborah Wood and Mrs. L. B. Paste. Miss Vera Smythe gave the devotional readings and reflections on the new year.

Miss Myra Lorimer of the Mansfield Public Library staff presented a story, "The Snow Goose," by Paul Gallico. Guests for the evening were employed girls. Date of the next meeting is Feb. 5. The place will be announced later.

Woodville Social Club Has Meeting

Twenty-three members of the Woodville Social club were entertained Friday at the home of Mrs. C. C. Seerist, South Main street road. Associate hostess was Mrs. Tom A. Long. There was a covered-dish dinner and a surprise handkerchief shower was given for Mrs. Harold Mast.

During the afternoon contests were enjoyed with prizes going to Mrs. Minnie McCullough and Miss Ida Swisher. Members also knotted a comfort for a needy family. On Jan. 23, the club will meet with Mrs. R. J. Stimens on the Woodville road.

SORORITY INITIATION.

"Rough initiation" was held recently for new members of Delta chapter of Tri Gamma sorority. Mrs. Frank Mengert and Mrs. Lowell Moore were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Mengert's mother, Mrs. H. R. Fiedler, on Overlook road. The new members are Mrs. Sarah Smaltz, Mrs. Kay Leonard, Mrs. Margaret Wiener, Mrs. Miriam Bell and Mrs. Eleanor Rist. High score prizes in bridge were awarded to Mrs. Wiener and Mrs. Rist. Formal initiation will be held at "The Woods" near Ashland, on Jan. 14.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

I pulled myself together by the time Mary had finished her diatribe, and because of my relief at her astonishing reaction to my effort to bring her back to accordance with my father's plan, I brought out a suggestion which I guessed would ease one of her anxieties.

"I'm not answering any of your bizarre accusations," I told her smiling. "But now that you've made your own decision—"

"Oh, yeah!" she mocked. "I'm amazed you weren't struck dumb when you pulled that one."

Madge Offers Help.

"I don't mind telling you that I really believe you've done the right thing. But, dearest girl," my voice changed to tenderness, "please believe that I understand fully what it has cost you, and I want to help you in any way I can.

"I've been wondering. Don't you think it might help if I see Redfield before you do, and try to get him into a less resentful mood, of course not revealing that I know anything of the scoring you gave him last night?"

"Oh, you darling!" she exclaimed. "Remember not to get me any Christmas or birthday presents for five years. You've lumped 'em all just now."

"You can't imagine how I've dreaded seeing Steve," she went on.

"Oh, yes, I can, Mary," I told her with sincerity and emphasis, for I was remembering unpleasant experiences of my own.

"And if anybody in the world can manage that baby, you can," she went on extravagantly. "He'll probably be thinking he owes me an apology for drawing his breath by the time you get through with him."

"You're very flattering, my dear," I told her laughing, for her foolery is irresistible. "But I fall far below your estimate of me. However, I'll do my best, and I'll get at it as soon as I've reported to my father about Noel's consent to his plan. Where will I be apt to find Stephen?"

"To parody the famous quip of the immortal Browning," she said with burlesqued grandiloquence, "last night, or rather early this morning, only God and my respected papa-in-law knew where he was parked. You remember you turned him over to Papa Veritzen for safe-keeping when Noel was running amok."

"Which makes it a bit complicated," I told her. "My procedure seems to be interviews with first my father, second Philip Veritzen, third Stephen Redfield—if I can find him."

Wants Advice.

"And you're thinking that you'll have to park me somewhere else for the duration," she said. "That's all right by me, but I'd like your advice on something."

Her voice was hesitant, troubled, and I promptly laid every other care away to meet her patent need.

"Of course, darling," I said. "I shall be very glad to help you if I can."

"You can, all right," she said, "for you saw him last. What I'd like to do would be to go over to our apartment and see Noel. But if he's still digesting—or more probably getting indigestion from—that meal about Redfield you just served him, will he want to see me? Is it wise even to try meeting him in his present mood?"

Mary to See Noel.

I considered for the fraction of a second, with the memory of Noel's bitter face before me. Then I made a swift decision.

"If he is gloomy and cross, can you guarantee to keep your temper?" I asked.

"I'll keep the tightest rein ever on it," she promised. "I owe him that."

"Then," I decided, "if you play correctly some cards I'll give you, I am sure you are wise in going over to see him."

Shiplet's Bucket In Last 20 Seconds Wins for Tygers

Sport Podge by REX HESS

Almost we had the gag yarn of this young war and last fall's gridiron campaign all rolled up in one yesterday.

Almost, but not quite.

But it's still worth telling.

The story was going around town that one of Coach Paul Brown's lean and hungry Buckeye battlers was too big and fat to get in the army.

And the story was about Mansfield's own Johnny Hallabrin.

Yes sir, some of the boys who came back from Thursday's draft examinations at Fort Hayes in Columbus were telling that John had been turned down because he was overweight.

Now there was a yarn for you. What about all this lean and hungry business we'd been hearing about all fall? And what about the army turning down a first class fighting man, whose educated toe tied Michigan, because of a few extra pounds? Yeah, how about that?

Call up the army, get the dope,
Say it all ain't true, we hope.

So, no less than three telephone calls were pushed through to Fort Hayes. On the first, Major Albert Karger, in charge of press relations, promised to check it right up and call back. An hour passed, no call.

On the second call, Major Karger reported no evidence could be found that Hallabrin had ever been through the physical examination mill at Fort Hayes, but then, "we've got 'em going through here so fast we might not be able to find his record for several days."

And on the third call the report was much the same. Still no record of the Hallabrin visit to the fort. "But," declared Major Karger, "we wouldn't turn him down just for a few extra pounds."

Fortunately Hallabrin was in town last night, playing with the alumni basketball team against the Mansfield Tygers.

"Sure," says John, "I was overweight according to army standards of height and poundage. But I wasn't rejected. Why, I'm weighing less right now than I have for years when not in training. Just 200 pounds, and I weighed 195 in the middle of the season when I was going good.

"There wasn't a thing wrong with me. Blood count perfect. Everything perfect. One doctor, from Michigan he was, told me: 'Young fella, you'll live a long time if you don't stop a bullet."

Rejected? Nothing to it. But there's a matter of Hallabrin's enlistment in the navy under Gene Tunney's physical education program.

His case was referred to his Mansfield draft board for possible deferment until the navy enlistment goes through.

"That shouldn't take long," Hallabrin said. "I've an appointment to see Tunney on the 19th of this month."

Union Takes Cage Tilt From Shiloh

Taking their second win out of three Richland county cage league games, Union high school cagers last night defeated Shiloh, 43-29, on the Union floor.

The loss leaves Shiloh in last place in the nine-team ladder with three straight losses.

High scorer for the evening was Bob Hahan of Union with 13 points made on six field goals and one free throw.

Shiloh won the reserve game, 17-13.

Plymouth Drubs Ontario, 38-27

PLYMOUTH — Plymouth held onto its perfect batting average in the Richland county league last night by lifting a cage game from Ontario, 38-27, on the Plymouth courts.

Piling up a 12-2 advantage in the first quarter, Plymouth went on to make it 22-9 at the half and 27-18 at the end of the third quarter.

High scorer was Bill Reed of Plymouth with 17 points scored on seven field goals and three free throws.

Plymouth also won the reserve game, 27-16.

Simpson's Club Nips Appleseed

Pioneers Lose Cage Tilt, 30-20, on Own Floor.

By BUD SPRUNGER

AN AGGRESSIVE and fast John Simpson Junior high school cage team downed Johnny Appleseed, 30-20, on the Pioneer floor last night, taking the first round in a best of three series to decide the Mansfield junior basketball championship.

Leading, 22-10, at the end of the half, the Simpson cagers were never headed and only outscored in one quarter, the last.

Able to control the ball and continually moving in to snatch it from the Pioneer cagers, Simpson scored most of its points under the bucket with Jake Gaubatz gathering in the scoring honors with six field goals and one free throw for a total of 13 points.

Unable to penetrate the Simpson defense with long passes the Appleseed team did its scoring on long shots, collecting eight of its 20 points on free throws.

In the final quarter Appleseed opened up its defense and started after the ball, taking it away from Simpson men several times and beginning to roll up the score before the gun ended the game.

Trailing Gaubatz in scoring was Les Meyers of Appleseed with three field goals and three foul shots for a total of nine points. Every one of Meyer's shots was made on long looping trys.

Dick DePue stood out in the Simpson defensive play as well as being the second best scorer on his team. Moving in fast with quick playing, he was able to break up the Pioneer attack before it could get close enough to be dangerous and to hurry Pioneer shooters out of a possibility of getting set to shoot.

Trailing, 28-14, at the end of the third quarter, Appleseed saw its chances grow slimmer as Gaubatz looped in a field goal to start the quarter's scoring.

Meyers at this point led an Appleseed attack which netted him a field goal, Chuck Sauder a foul shot, Gerald Zeller two field goals and Meyers another free throw before the final gun sounded.

JOHNSVILLE DROPS SPARTA CAGERS, 44-24

JOHNSVILLE—Taking the lead easily in the first quarter and holding it unchallenged throughout the game, Johnsville high school dropped Sparta, 44-24, on the Johnsville floor here last night.

High scorer was Roland Smith of Johnsville with six field goals for a total of 12 points, trailed by his two teammates, Dick Snavely and Dick Wirick, both with 11 points. Johnsville won the reserve game, 16-14.

Leppo Rolls Total of 716

Sets Season's Record For Moose Bowlers.

Johnny Leppo caught on fire last night to turn in the season's high total in the Moose bowling league at Colony alleys with a 716 count on a string of 199-266-251.

Brig Young was feeling the heat too, and wasn't far behind with 699 on consistent games of 238-238-223.

Leppo's 266 not only was high game for the league, but it helped the Treasurers to high game of 1024, and high total of 2780.

Art Hilborn rolled a 644 total, LeMunyon 601, Aultman 611.

Louis Hacks Down Giant Baer In First

Champion Joe Louis backs away from the stricken hulk of Challenger Buddy Baer after his unleashed fistic terror had hacked the young California giant to the canvas, ending the fight in just two minutes and fifty-six seconds of the first round. The crowd of 20,000 fans at New York's Madison Square Garden saw Louis turn in one of the most awe-inspiring performances of his career. The fight was for the benefit of the Navy Relief society with the Brown Bomber contributing his entire $70,000 purse to the charity.

Louis Stops Baer In First Round Of 20th Defense of Heavy Title

Has Challenger On Floor Three Times Before Final 10-Count

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—(AP)—Any tendency to start recalling the young Joe Louis who "killed" his man with a punch can be spiked right now, for the mature Joe Louis who knocked out Buddy Baer in the first round at Madison Square Garden last night is as great a fighter as the world has seen.

At 206¾ pounds—much the heaviest he ever has weighed—the Negro champion looked as fast as ever in his career, and it is doubtful he ever threw a harder punch than any one of three that dropped the 250-pound Baer to the canvas as though he had been shot.

Baer, shaking his battered head cheerfully, said "I know now what they meant when they said the man who beats Joe will have Father Time in his corner. Maybe my next child will be a son and I can raise him up for the job."

Fighting with his entire share of the receipts going to the Naval Relief society, the champion gave one of his most savage displays in the 20th defense of his title. From the time the lights dimmed and the bell clanged until two minutes, 56 seconds later, when Buddy's shattered hulk was towed back to his corner, Louis tried to tear his man apart with every punch.

Baer had gameness, little more, to pit against the destroyer that bored into him. Twice, after vicious, chopping rights had slammed him to the canvas, he managed to reach his ample feet at the count of nine, but the third time he still was floundering painfully when Referee Frank Fullam swept his arm to signify the end.

The distinguished crowd that paid a top price of $30 to witness what might be Louis' last fight before he is fitted for a uniform didn't see the champion very long, but none of the 20,000 will forget it.

So mercifully sharp were the blows that collapsed Baer that he bore slight evidence of his ordeal. There was only a lump, about the size of a bantam egg, on his left cheek bone as he wisecracked about his experience.

"All I can't understand is why he didn't put on some weight a long time ago," he said. "He hit me a whole lot faster and harder tonight than he did in Washington. In fact, any one of those punches he caught me with tonight hurt more than the whole bunch he hit me in six rounds down there."

Wendell Willkie set the keynote beforehand when, in a speech from the ring, he told Buddy: "I took on a champ too, not long ago. I didn't win, but I had a lot of fun trying."

When Willkie called on Baer in his dressing room after it was over, Buddy was able to laugh: "Well, we had a lot of fun trying."

Louis came out of the brief bout with a very slight cut on his under lip; so slight that Dr. William Walker, the athletic commission's physician, didn't see it at all. Baer was so busy trying to protect himself that he landed only a few punches, none of them carrying anything like the authority of the left with which he knocked Joe out of the ring in their Washington scrap last May.

Butler Smears Bellville, 37-29

BUTLER — Although playing a much better brand of ball than at any time this season Bellville dropepd a cage game here last night to the league leading Butler Bulldogs.

In the opening quarter, the Bluejays matched the Bulldogs point for point to come out with a 14-14 tie, but in the remaining stanzas they failed to show the necesary strength and lost, 37-29.

* * *

High scorer was Dwain Forbes of Butler with six field goals and one free throw for 13 points. Trailing him was George Stoodt of Bellville with 12 points made three field goals and six free throws.

Butler won the reserve game, 20-13.

Rams Defeat Lexington

Minute Men Pushed From Top County Loop Spot.

Madison high school basketeers last night booted Lexington out of top spot in the Richland county league with a 30-27 score on the Lexington home court.

With Ken Windsor taking over the duties as Ram center and Dick Bader moving into his former spot in the guard position, the Rams overcame a Minute Man first quarter lead and went on to win.

Ray Clever of Lexington, however, annexed high scoring honors with 12 points made on five field goals and two free throws. Trailing him was Harold Hammer with 10 points made on five field goals.

Madison also won the reserve game, 17-14.

High School Quintet Takes Uphill Battle

Individual Play of Alumni Gives Grads Edge Most of Tilt

By REX HESS, News-Journal Sport Editor.

MANSFIELD high school's courageous Tygers pulled the wildest bucketball game of the season out of the fire last night in defeating an alumni aggregation 29-28 in the last 20 seconds of play.

The Tygers had trailed since early in the second quarter, and while they hung on doggedly within striking distance of the grads, it didn't seem possible in that last minute of play that they'd can the shot that would win the game.

But anything's possible when there's a scrapper like Jack Shiplet on the floor. While the clock relentlessly clicked off the closing seconds of the battle, Shiplet grabbed the ball, dashed to the corner of the court on a mad dribble, let fly with an unconscious one-hand shot that had little more than a prayer to guide it, and the ball game was over.

The shot hit high on the bank board, Englished straight down and through the hoop as though it had eyes. And there was nothing the alumni could do about it in the remaining few seconds.

Making up in individual ability what they lacked in teamwork, the alumni surprised everyone by sticking in the ball game from the opening whistle right down to that last 20 seconds.

Realizing that lack of teamwork by the grads might make for a rough battle, Coach Vern Hoffman of the Tygers gave officials "Legs" Binkley of Fremont and Joe Atton instructions to call 'em close. And close they called 'em, but fair, and favoring neither side. No less than 40 free heaves were taken at the hoop during the contest.

Dean Hahn opened the scoring with a free toss, but then the alumni took a 6-1 lead as Gene Rudolph tallied under the hoop, and added a pair of free tosses, and Dave Shelley canned a long shot from the side.

Another free toss by Hahn, a long one-hander by Winbigler and a dribble-in shot by Krupp tied it up, but Shelley's free point gave the alumni a 7-6 edge at the quarter.

Robinson got a free point for the high school, and Prion and Herpich each got a free one for alumni. A pair of free shots by Paul Dietzel knotted the count again at 9-9.

Herpich scored from the circle, but Robinson and Hahn again tied it up at 11-11 with free shots. Then the grads got started. Lewis scored from the circle and Herpich from the side for a 15-11 lead at halftime.

A pair of free shots by Johnny Hallabrin boosted the alumni margin, but Dietzel came back with two free tosses for the Tygers. Bruce McGinty got a free shot, and Hallabrin uncorked a neat one-hander from the side to make it 20-13.

Dietzel got another free shot. Bob Spear tallied on a side pivot. Shiplet sank a one-hander from the corner, and McGinty got away for a sucker shot to make it 24-16.

Free points by Robinson and Dietzel and a sucker shot by Dietzel made it 24-20 at the third quarter.

A one-hander from the circle by Winbigler and a free point by Hahn reduced the margin to one point at 23-24, and the first alumni team of Hallabrin, Spear, Shelley, McGinty and Rudolph came rushing back into the game. Shelley immediately sank an overhead shot from the center of the floor.

Krupp battled loose for an under-bucket shot. Hallabrin got a free point. With only a minute and a half to play Winbigler tied the score at 27-27 with a one-hander from the circle.

In the preliminary game the reserves were edged 28-27 by a senior-alumni team on Captain Bill Doolittle's set shot from the center of the floor in the closing seconds of play.

The reserves got away to a 10-0 lead, and held a 10-2 margin at the quarter. But they failed to hold the pace and at the half were leading by only 15-10, and at the third quarter were behind 20-24.

An outdoor guy never had a better friend than a good knife, and you can find just the right one for many specialized services in Yuncker's selection of sportsmen's knives. They have the kind of steel that takes and holds a good edge, and they're as handy as they are inexpensive.

Efforts by the Associated Fishing Tackle Manufacturers are being made to preserve an adequate supply of fishing tackle, despite "priority" demands. The arguments used are that fishing is a valuable recreation for millions of the people, the amount of materials used is very small and a fishing outfit lasts for many years. Seems like you have a good case, boys.

The canvasback duck is credited with flying 72 miles an hour, greenwing teal 60. Although it isc difficult to calculate the top speed of these birds, army fliers have clocked them at these speeds.

Don't forget to give our feathered friends, the birds, a break, and feed them during the cold months when their natural food is scarce. It's an easy matter to fix up a feeding box with grain and grit, and they'll enjoy suet placed in a tree. You'll be repaid a thousand times by their grateful chirpings when they discover your thoughtfulness.

One of 1941's most unusual catches was made by Charlotte Ann Loud of Collingswood, New Jersey, who landed a 59 pound loggerhead turtle, on light tackle. Miss Loud was fishing in Little Egg Harbor Bay, with a light bamboo boat rod, a 6 thread line when she hooked the turtle. She landed it without a gaff after playing it for 30 minutes.

Why Pay More?

Six monthly instalments of $8.93 each, total of $53.58, repay a $50 loan in full. Cost thus only $3.58; only ⅓ of highest lawful charge. Borrow $20 to $500 on furniture, car or note. Just say how much you need and how you want to repay. No endorsers needed. No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. 24 hour service.

Payments include charges at Household's rate of 2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $300 and 1½% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $300. Compare loan rates before you borrow anywhere!

WORKERS WALK OUT

MARION, Ill.—(U.P.)—This city had a strike unlike any ever staged in the country before. The National Youth administration felt slighted when monthly paychecks were late and workers at NYA industrial headquarters agreed not to work. Some remained off duty for a full day.

HOOKS 45-POUNDER

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(U.P.)—Add Albuquerque to the list of the nation's cities in which a woman is the champion angler. Mrs. Mason D. Wiysel, who took up fishing because her husband is an ardent fisherman, caught a record-breaking 45-pound catfish at San Marcial. The fish was 4 feet long.

NO DEFINITE TREND FOUND IN STOCK LIST

"Short Interest" In Share Division Seen Lowest In Market Records.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—The stock market operated without a definite trend in today's early dealings with leaders shifting small fractions in either direction.

Boardrooms found scant comfort in the compilation of the New York stock exchange disclosing the "short interest" in the share division as of Dec. 31 was the smallest for any date since records were first compiled in May, 1931.

The extent of the "short interest" is watched carefully by most analysts inasmuch as those who borrowed stock to sell must buy it back eventually.

Holders of oil company issues noted the department of the interior summary placing stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum at 244,440,000 barrels on Jan. 3, an increase of 450,000 barrels over the previous week.

MAN FOUND DEAD

Was Employe of Restaurant At Bus Station.

Frank A. Gordon, 53, Greyhound bus station restaurant employe, was found dead in bed yesterday at 182 South Adams street where he resided with the Harry Wicket family.

County Coroner L. B. McCullough pronounced death due to natural causes after making an investigation. He indicated that Gordon might have died from pneumonia.

Gordon was discovered dead at 10:30 a. m. when he did not get up, and Wicket went to his room to investigate. He had been employed in the bus station six months and had lived at the Wicket residence.

His papers showed that he had been an army musician in the band of the 140th Field Artillery from 1918 to 1919.

Gordon was born in Tiffin, Nov. 24, 1888. He is survived by a brother, Earl of Tiffin, and a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Schedinger of Clyde.

AIR RAIDS RIP JAPAN TARGETS OVER WIDE AREA

Tons of Explosives Dropped, British Admit Further Malaya Withdrawal.

the fiercest land battle of the entire Far Eastern conflict was raging 50 miles north of strategic Kuala Lumpur.

Advancing Jap units were reported still pounding the British forces, who in turn were taking a terrific toll in killed and wounded Nipponese.

The fighting on the western Malayan front reached a new peak of violence after the Japanese, supported by tanks and dive-bombing planes, pushed their way across the strategic Slim river.

"Details of the fighting in the Slim river area, reported in yesterday's communique, are still incomplete," the new British war bulletin said.

The Japanese were reported bringing all the resources of men and weapons they could muster into a supreme effort to gain more territory on the western Malayan front.

Immediate Japanese objective was to break through to the main road that leads from the region of Kuala Lumpur to Singapore, Britain's great Far Eastern defense bastion at the tip of the Malayan peninsula.

Latest advices indicated the Japs were making some progress, but that their advance was slow and that they were suffering terrific losses inflicted by the British imperial forces.

Meanwhile, the RAF was active against Japanese transports off the eastern Malayan coast in the Kuantan region, where a direct hit already has been scored on one vessel and another damaged.

The RAF kept up its bombing attacks on the transport vessels and disembarking troops and also again raided the Anambas islands, believed to be serving as a stepping stone for the Nipponese reinforcements.

There was no confirmation in Singapore of Jap claims that British communications south of Kuala Lumpur, gateway to Singapore and itself a vitally important rubber-producing center, have been cut.

Cooper Ordered Back To Britain

LONDON—(INS)—Alfred Duff Cooper, resident British minister at Singapore, was requested by the government today to wind up his affairs at the far eastern base and return to Britain.

Duff Cooper, who formerly served as British minister of information, was given the ministerial appointment in Singapore only a few weeks ago. He has been in the Far East for several months, charged with co-ordinating British defense arrangements throughout the Orient.

Announcement of the request that he return to Britain contained no hint of any new task the government may have in store for Duff Cooper.

No tears were shed in London over Duff Cooper's recall. Even preceding Wavell's new appointment, Duff Cooper was the object of considerable criticism, particularly from Australia.

PROBE SHOOTING

Police Investigate Fight In Mansfield Club.

Mansfield police and County Prosecutor Harold Lutz today were investigating a shooting last night at the Picket Fence club, 217½ North Diamond street, in which a colored Mansfield resident was shot twice.

Called to the club shortly before midnight police learned that Rudolph Dawson, 553 Lily street, had been shot through the forehead and the right shoulder, following a fight.

Lutz reported Dawson was shot by L. R. Newsome, proprietor of the club. Newsome told police Dawson had attacked him with a knife after being ordered out for creating a disturbance. Newsome said that he had then got a gun and shot at Dawson four times, hitting him once above the left eye and also in the right shoulder.

Dawson was removed to General hospital for treatment. Lutz said he expected the Lily street resident would recover from his wounds. Newsome was treated for cuts received when Dawson attacked him.

Lutz said that both men are being held on "open charges" until the investigation has been completed. The prosecutor has questioned Newsome and witnesses to the fight but still has to talk to Dawson.

Mayor to Pass Up Council In Airport Improvement Plans

port committee if the supporters of the airport development would present council with a definite improvement program.

Harrington said that the money he would request would not be used for any new developments but merely to maintain the port and to pay for work such as grass-seeding carried out last year.

The mayor has been contacting federal authorities in Detroit on the possibility of obtaining funds for the development of the airport. Although he received no special encouragement in the conference with these authorities, Locke said he would go ahead with an application for the aid.

Previous attempts of the administration to get aid from the federal government have been met with the announcement that airports in the southern states and coastal defense regions were being given preference in such cases.

Efforts of a special council delegation which attended a meeting in Columbus last month in an attempt to get Gov. John W. Bricker hand over a share of the $13,000,000 state surplus were unsuccessful. The governor refused to call a special session of the Legislature to distribute the surplus.

Fred Miller, head of the special delegation, had announced that the surplus share, if received, would probably have been used for development of the airport.

couple with separate incomes in excess of $2,000 each to pay much heavier surtaxes, was dropped from the 1941 tax bills.

Stiffer rates on corporation excess profits. Earnings in excess of eight per cent of a corporation's capital investment (seven per cent on capital in excess of $5,000,000) or in excess of average earnings from 1936 to 1939 are considered excess profits. They are taxed at rates ranging from 35 to 60 per cent.

Increase social security taxes to yield $2,000,000,000. This would involve bringing many new persons into the program and an additional one per cent in the old age annuity taxes paid by employes and employers (they each pay one per cent of an individual employe's periodical earnings now), and a one per cent unemployment compensation tax to be paid by employes. At the present time employers only pay a one per cent unemployment compensation tax.

Reductions in the present $40,000 estate and gift tax exemptions.

Uncertain Destiny + + + + + +

CHAPTER V

"Hello!" he said, and it was like an exclamation. "I don't believe I know you, but you're beautiful."

For a long moment Linda was lost in the depths of compelling blue eyes, the bluest she had ever seen, and then:

"Hello," she answered, uncertainly. "I—I don't believe you do."

She was suddenly weak with a strange, heady excitement.

Slowly his eyes slid down over her face in a glance that was almost a caress as they came to rest on her soft mouth. "I'm Greg Hollister." He was smiling.

"I—I'm Linda Phillips." How false her voice sounded to her own ears!

"Chicago?" His question was polite, but Linda sensed a diffidence in his manner toward her. His eyes flickered suddenly in the direction of the other guests, and Linda thought, rebelliously, "He's losing interest in me because I'm dull; because I can't carry on a conversation. Why can't I be witty and vivacious like Sally, or as worldly and fascinating as Diane?" Suddenly she was talking animatedly to hold his attention. Words tumbled from her lips and Linda scarcely heard them.

"And so as a corn-fed Iowa gal, I'm at a loss to know what to say to you city slickers." She was startled, "What am I talking about?" she asked herself.

She stopped short, glancing up at her companion, and—wonder of wonders—he was smiling. Then, surprisingly, they were laughing together and her first fright had passed, leaving Linda completely relaxed and natural.

"I've a suggestion to offer," the handsome newcomer said. "I'd like to show the bright lights of Chicago to a little corn-fed gal."

"Oh, I'd like that very much, but—" her voice was regretful. "I believe Diane has arranged for someone to escort me to the wedding reception."

"Diane?" He gave a swift glance, and Linda nodded.

"I'm staying with her over the week-end. Diane is an old friend of mine."

"I see." He was strangely quiet, and Linda said quickly, "you know Diane Frazier, don't you? After all, she is the hostess."

"Yes, I know Diane quite well," Greg Hollister replied.

He glanced casually around the smoky room and then said, smilingly, "I promised to stop in for a minute, but I'm afraid I've got to be running along now."

While Linda experienced a sharp stab of disappointment, the man's voice dropped to a whisper, and his bold glance made her pulses quicken, her white neck flush with scarlet.

"I'm going to see you again, Linda Phillips. Will you save a dance for me?"

Linda smiled sweetly, trustingly. "Of course I will," she promised.

When he had wended his way through the crowd, pausing to say only a few words to Diane, Linda saw him turn and nod in her direction, and a radiant smile flashed across her face. She had never met anyone so boldly fascinating as Greg Hollister before. Would they — could they meet again?

After he had departed, the party seemed to lose its zest for Linda. She found herself looking forward anxiously to the wedding reception, and was relieved when the guests began to leave.

After the last visitor had gone, the three girls hastily consumed sandwiches and coffee, and then there was a hurried taxi ride across the city to the church where Betty was to be married.

The wedding was beautiful and inspiring. Watching Betty Allison, so lovely and demure in her white wedding veil, with confidence and trusting shining in her eyes as she faced her proud bridegroom at the altar, Linda felt a lump in her throat. She wanted to laugh and cry, to sing her happiness for her cousin.

"This is what I want," she vowed to herself. "I want a ceremony of beauty and sanctity. Something to remember and cherish always!" How little Linda knew of the fate awaiting her, or of the events already moving swiftly to change the entire pattern of her chosen life!

All too quickly the ceremony was over, and Linda had only a brief moment to whisper her congratulations to the happy couple. Betty pressed her hand. "I hope you will be as happy as I," she said. Then the newlyweds were surrounded by anxious guests and whisked away to their train.

The reception followed—a reception minus bride and bridegreen, but replete with a famous orchestra in an ornate, brightly-lighted ballroom, champagne, and the customary wedding cake. Linda's escort was a polite if slightly vague young man, but she scarcely noticed him.

Remembering Greg's prophecy that they would meet again, she admonished herself briskly. "Don't be getting foolish ideas, Mi

SUCH NUMBERS! 222 22ND ST. AND LOCUST 1234! A LOT OF GOOD IT DID TO TEAR 'EM UP! I CAN'T FORGET 'EM
RUSS COLESTOVER
WELL, I'M RID OF THAT SERVANT WHO WAS WILLED TO ME
THERE'S THE BELL - IT MUST BE THAT NEW CHAP YOU'VE A DATE WITH GOOD EVENING, MR. BLENCH
CALL ME CHAD AND WHAT SAY, WE GO OUT FOR A BIT OF RUG-CUTTING?
1-6
THE PINK TURKEY'S THE SPOT FOR TWO SWELL YOUNG FOLKS LIKE US - IT'S ONLY FORTY MILES
I'D LOVE IT
YOUNG MAN, YOU LOOK LIKE A DRAFT-EVADER I'M LOOKING FOR ER, ER, YOU MUST BE MISTAKEN
RUSS COLESTOVER
WELL, IF YOU'RE NOT A DRAFT-EVADER YOU CAN PROVE IT - WHERE'S YOUR REGISTRATION CARD?
ER...ER
ZOP!
UGH
GOSH! HE'S GETTING AWAY IN HIS CAR - BUT MY OLD MOTOR BIKE'LL OVER-HAUL HIM
OH, DEAR
MERCY! FORTY MILES FROM HOME AND NOT A CENT IN MY PURSE
RUSS COLESTOVER
HEAVENS! I'VE TRIED TO CALL MAC, AND MUMSY, AND BUBBLES AND WALLY ON REVERSED CHARGES AND NO ONE ANSWERS. I'LL HAVE TO WALK
YOU'LL WANT A CAB IN ALL THIS RAIN, OF COURSE
THERE'S JUST ONE THING LEFT
OH, BASCOM, I HAD NO INTENTION OF ASKING YOU TO DO ANYTHING FOR ME, BUT I'M FORTY MILES FROM HOME AND -
YOU CAN COUNT ON ME, MISS JONES
RUSS COLESTOVER
OH, BASCOM, YOU'RE A LIFE-SAVER
DON'T MENTION IT. BY THE TERMS OF MISTER QUIRKLEY'S WILL, I'M YOURS TO COMMAND
WHEN I SAID YOU'D HAVE NOTHING TO DO, BUT COLLECT YOUR SALARY, I MEANT IT
I'M SURE YOU DID, BUT IF YOU NEED ME AGAIN, I'LL HELP YOU
MUMSY, SOMETHING HAPPENED AND BASCOM BROUGHT ME HOME
OH, TILLIE, I'VE SPILLED INDELIBLE INK ON YOUR NEW CIVILIAN DEFENSE UNIFORM
WITH A FEW SIMPLE INGREDIENTS I CAN MAKE AN INK-REMOVER THAT'LL FIX IT
OH, IF YOU ONLY CAN! I WANT IT FOR TOMORROW
RUSS COLESTOVER
HERE, MISS JONES, YOUR CIVILIAN DEFENSE UNIFORM IS GOOD AS NEW - NOT A TRACE OF INK WONDERFUL! I MUST TRY IT ON
1-10
MERCY! WHAT AN AWFUL FIT!
LOOK! IT'S TOO TIGHT AROUND THE SHOULDERS AND THE WAIST IS TOO BIG - I CAN'T WEAR IT
DON'T WORRY, MISS JONES, JUST GIVE ME SCISSORS AND SOME SEWING THINGS
YOU'RE A REGULAR TAILOR, I'LL SAY -
IF THAT CHAP DOESN'T LOOK OUT, HE'S GOING TO MAKE HIMSELF INDISPENSABLE AROUND HERE

TOOTS AND CASPER

GOSH! COL. HOOFER HAS BEEN IN WITH MR. PLUNKER A LONG TIME! IT WOULD BE JUST LIKE THE BIG FOUR-FLUSHER TO TALK THE BOSS INTO GIVING HIM A JOB AS MY ASSISTANT! WHAT AN ANCHOR HE WOULD BE!
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
--SO HOW ABOUT MAKING ME GENERAL MANAGER, WITH CASPER AS MY ASSISTANT?
NEVER! JUST BECAUSE YOU OVERHEARD MY BID ON THAT 'MAMMOTH DAM' JOB—
VERY WELL, THEN--- PERHAPS YOUR RIVALS--- THE "AIRTIGHT STEEL" CROWD---COULD USE ME!
NO! NOT THAT---PLEASE! LET'S NOT BE HASTY ABOUT THIS THING!
JIMMY MURPHY
HAVE YOU GOT A BLOTTER, CASPER?-- THE INK ON MY CONTRACT IS A LITTLE WET!
SAY, BOSS, WHAT'S THIS I HEAR ABOUT YOU HIRING COL. HOOFER? IS IT TRUE THAT HE'S GOING TO BE MY ASSISTANT IN MY NEW POST AS GENERAL MANAGER?
Copr 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
WELL, CASPER, IT'S PARTLY TRUE--I DID HIRE COL. HOOFER---- BUT NOT AS YOUR ASSISTANT!
---HE'S GOING TO BE GENERAL MANAGER AND YOU'RE GOING TO BE HIS ASSISTANT!
NOW DON'T GET EXCITED, CASPER---I HAD MY OWN REASONS FOR THIS MOVE! EVERYTHING'S GOING TO TURN OUT ALL RIGHT FOR YOU EVENTUALLY---I HOPE!
BUT, BOSS--YOU CAN'T DO THIS TO ME!
JIMMY MURPHY
WHAT A COMEDOWN THIS IS!--- I WAS ALL SET TO BECOME GENERAL MANAGER, BUT INSTEAD, MR PLUNKER HIRED COL HOOFER FOR THE JOB AND MADE ME HIS ASSISTANT!
Copr 1942 King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
THE BOSS SAID HE HAD HIS OWN REASONS FOR THE CHANGE AND HE HOPED IT WOULD ONLY BE TEMPORARY---BUT IN THE MEANTIME, IT SURE PUTS ME ON THE SPOT!
WITH COL. HOOFER IN THE DRIVER'S SEAT, A GALLEY-SLAVE WOULD HAVE A CINCH COMPARED TO MY LOT!
I DREAD BREAKING THE NEWS TO TOOTS, BUT IT HAS TO BE DONE! --IF I DON'T TELL HER SOON, SHE'LL HEAR IT DIRECT FROM SOPHIE HOOFER---AND THAT WOULD BE EVEN WORSE!
JIMMY MURPHY
TOOTS FELT PRETTY BAD ABOUT MY NOT BEING PROMOTED TO GENERAL MANAGER, AS MR PLUNKER PROMISED!
---BUT THE LAST STRAW WAS WHEN SHE LEARNED THAT COL. HOOFER GOT THE JOB AND THAT I'LL HAVE TO SERVE AS HIS ASSISTANT!
BOO-HOO, CASPER, I KNOW HOW HUMILIATING IT WILL BE FOR YOU TO HAVE COL. HOOFER AS YOUR BOSS-- BUT I'D RATHER TRADE PLACES WITH YOU, THAN FACE SOPHIE HOOFER!
JIMMY MURPHY
Copr 194 King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
TOOTS IS RIGHT--WE'RE BOTH IN A TOUGH SPOT! IF I WERE SINGLE, I COULD GO AWAY AND BECOME A HERMIT! MAYBE TOOTS AND I COULD RENT A DOUBLE IGLOO UP AT THE NORTH POLE, WHERE NOBODY WILL KNOW US!
CASPER, WHAT'S THE IDEA OF GETTING TO WORK AT THIS TIME?--YOU'RE TWO HOURS LATE!
I JUST CAME TO SAY GOOD-BYE, BOSS--I'M QUITTING!
HOLD ON, CASPER, YOU'RE BEING TOO IMPULSIVE!
I'VE THOUGHT IT OVER, BOSS--I CAN'T WORK UNDER THAT OLD WINDBAG, COL HOOFER!
JUST BE PATIENT, CASPER--YOU MAY NOT HAVE TO WORK UNDER HIM VERY LONG!
OKAY, BOSS, I'LL TRY TO BE A SPORT ABOUT IT'
AS SOON AS I LAND THAT "MAMMOTH DAM" JOB, I'LL FIND SOME WAY TO BREAK HIS CONTRACT! BAH! WHAT I'D REALLY LIKE, IS TO BREAK HIS NECK!
GOSH! WHAT'S THE BOSS MUTTERING ABOUT?
JIMMY MURPHY
COLONEL HOOFER IS SURE RIDING HIGH AROUND HERE, AS GENERAL MANAGER----- BUT I HAVE A HUNCH HE'S RIDING FOR A FALL!
CASPER, I'M GOING TO LEAVE YOU IN CHARGE OF THE OFFICE, WHILE I KEEP AN APPOINTMENT WITH MR. CHIZZLE OF "AIRTIGHT STEEL"! KEEP AN EYE ON THINGS, WHILE I'M OUT!
IT GALLS ME TO HAVE TO TAKE ORDERS FROM THAT NIT-WIT! IMAGINE LEAVING THE DETAILS TO ME, WHILE HE RUNS AROUND WITH BIG SHOTS--- SAY, WHERE DID HE SAY HE WAS GOING?
1-10
BOSS, HOOFER'S ON HIS WAY OVER TO SEE YOUR ARCH-RIVAL, CY CHIZZLE, OF "AIRTIGHT STEEL!" I WONDER WHAT HE COULD WANT WITH HOOFER?
THAT'S WHAT WE'D LIKE TO KNOW, TOO!
JIMMY MURPHY

SECRET AGENT X-9

ENOUGH, NANCY! THIS ONION FAIR CEASES TO BE AMUSING!
BY THE BAG OR CRATE, MA'AM! SEND SOME TO YOUR FRIENDS IN TH' STITES!
PRIZE
THESE BERMUDA GROWERS PRIDE THEMSELVES ON THE QUALITY OF THEIR ONIONS. CAPTAIN MAGNET! A COOK WOULD UNDERSTAND!
NANCY! WHERE ARE YOU GOING?
FOR SOUPE A L'OIGNON! I'm VERY GOOD AT IT!
WELL-L-L... I DON'T OBJECT TO THAT!
A FEW MOMENTS LATER...
SPEAK UP, 'ARRY! WOT YER STARIN' AT?
THE BILL THAT LYDIE PAID ME WITH... HIT'S GOT A NOTE PINNED TO IT—IT HAS!
MEL GRAFF
LOOK 'ERE, MAME—THAT GIRL PAID FOR THE ONIONS WITH THIS BILL AN' THERE'S A NOTE PINNED TO IT, THERE IS!
'OW'S THAT? LEMME 'AVE IT!
BLESS US. YER RIGHT, 'ARRY! AN' LOOK WOT IT SAYS!
Ship me crate of Commander Stores U.S. Naval Base Bermuda
LATER
K-9 SHOULD HAVE THOSE ONIONS TOMORROW.. WILL HE KNOW WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT? I WISH I WERE SURE!
MEL GRAFF
BOX FOR YOU, SIR!
THANKS. I'LL TAKE IT!
WHAT'S IN THE CRATE, X-9? ..ASPIRIN?
I COULD USE SOME. AFTER WHAT WE'VE JUST BEEN THROUGH! LET'S OPEN IT!
WELL, BEAT ME AND FRY ME FOR AN OMELET! A CRATE OF BERMUDA TEAR-JERKERS!
BILL! THIS COULD BE FROM NANCY!
THIS IS THE SPOT WHERE THE CONVOY RAIDER WAS OVERTAKEN'... AND HERE'S WHERE THE ONIONS WERE SHIPPED FROM! IT'S NANCY'S WAY OF LETTING US KNOW WHERE SHE IS!
MEL GRAFF
YOU'RE RIGHT, X-9! THIS CRATE OF BERMUDA ONIONS IS NO GAG! NANCY SENT IT TO LET US KNOW WHERE SHE IS!
I'M SURE OF IT!
THE POOR GAL'S PROBABLY BEING HELD BY THE GUYS WHO ESCAPED FROM THE SCUTTLED CONVOY-RAIDER!
OKAY, BILL.. WE HAVE THE NAME OF THE TOWN.. LET'S GO!
MEANWHILE...
SET YOUR THINGS, NANCY! WE ARE LEAVING!
UH... BUT IT ISN'T SAFE! LET'S STAY HERE A DAY OR TWO LONGER, CAPTAIN MAGNET!
I THOUGHT YOU WOULD BE OVERJOYED TO LEAVE THIS LONELY SPOT... ONE CAN NEVER PREDICT A WOMAN'S FEELINGS!
MEL GRAFF
NATURALLY, NANCY, WE ARE IN DANGER OF DETECTION... BUT I HAVE A PLAN—
WE SHALL SEPARATE... THE ADDRESS OF OUR "FRIENDS" IN THE CITY IS ON THIS LETTER! IT WILL SERVE AS AN INTRODUCTION, IN CASE YOU ARRIVE FIRST!
THANKS, CAPTAIN MAGNET! THAT'S THE ADDRESS I WANTED! NOW, SIT DOWN!
WHY, YOU DOUBLE-CROSSING LITTLE—
MEL GRAFF
IT'S NANCY! SHE'S BEEN HURT! NANCY! ARE YOU ALL RIGHT?
CAPTAIN MAGNET.. HE GOT AWAY.. TRAIN... TRAIN..
TRAIN? SHE MUST MEAN THE NARROW GAUGE!
STAY WITH HER, BILL! I'M GOING AFTER CAPTAIN MAGNET!

WHO'D YUH BUY TH' SHIRT FER, POLLY?
A BIRTHDAY PRESENT FOR MY NEW BOY-FRIEND
BUT, POLLY, IT'LL BE FOUR OR FIVE SIZES TOO LARGE FOR HIM!
I KNOW, MA..
DO YOU THINK I WANT THAT EX-BOY FRIEND CLERK IN THERE TO KNOW THAT I'M GOING AROUND WITH SUCH A SHRIMP?
I'M WRITING KEN THAT IF HE'S BUSY, HE SHOULDN'T SHORTEN HIS TRIP JUST TO TAKE ME TO THE BALL THAT I CAN GO WITH YOU
BUT Y'SAID KEN PROMISED POSITIVELY T' GET BACK IN TIME FER TH' BALL
HE DID, BUT I THOUGHT I'D BETTER WRITE THIS LETTER.
1-6
--TO MAKE SURE THAT HE DOES!
I'M TERRIBLY WORRIED OVER WHAT JACK WILL DO TO ASH FOR TRYING TO DATE HIS GIRL WHILE HE WAS AT CAMP!
OH, ASH GENERALLY COMES OUT O K IN THE LONG RUN
YOU MAY BE RIGHT AT THAT, PA. WHEN I LAST SAW THEM --
ASH WAS STILL A GOOD FIFTY FEET AHEAD!

MA I'M PLANNING MY NEXT SEASON'S OUTFIT RIGHT NOW!
WHY?
YOU SEE, I FIGURE A GIRL'S APPEARANCE HAS A LOT TO DO WITH A SUCCESSFUL MARRIAGE
1-8
BUT NOT NEARLY AS MUCH AS A SUCCESSFUL MARRIAGE HAS TO DO WITH HER APPEARANCE!
I SUPPOSE SOME O' THESE DAYS WE'LL BE SEEIN' AS MANY WOMEN SOLDIERS AS MEN NONSENSE, SUSIE, SOLDIERIN' IS A MAN'S GAME WIMMIN BELONG IN TH' HOME!
GWAN!
YOU CAN'T TELL ME MEN ARE GONNA BE ABLE T' DRIVE THEM THINGS WITHOUT THEIR WIVES TELLIN' 'EM HOW!
1-9
OH -- I THINK THESE PARTIES ARE SO EXCITING, DON'T YOU, MRS PERKINS?
IT'S SO STIMULATING - THERE'S ASH ARGUING POLITICS WITH MR PERKINS I TELL YOU IT'S A REGULAR BATTLE OF WITS!
BATTLE OF WITS IS RIGHT! ONE IS A NIT AND TH' OTHER IS A HALF!

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

GLORYOSKY, HANNA — YOUR SPRAINED ANKLE MUST BE WELL AGAIN — TO SEE YOU SITTIN' UP MAKES ME FEEL GLAD ALL OVER
HA HA HA HA HA HA
HONEST I JUST LAUGH EVERY TIME I LOOK AT THIS WONDERFUL DOLL YOU MADE FOR ME
G'WAN — I TOLD YOU LITTLE GEORGE DID MOST OF THE WORK — BUT I'M TERRIBLE GLAD YOU LIKE IT
IT'S JUST LIKE HAVING A FOREST FULL OF MONKEYS FOR PETS
ANY WAY I LOOK AT IT, IT'S FUNNIER THAN IT WAS BEFORE — AND WHEN I LAUGH AT IT, IT SEEMS TO LAUGH AT ME — SO WE'RE BOTH LAUGHING ALL DAY LONG
DARRELL McCLURE
AND WHEN I GO TO SLEEP, I DREAM MY DOLL AND I ARE TRYING TO SEE WHO CAN LAUGH THE LOUDEST — THEN WE BOTH LAUGH SO LOUD, THE NOISE WAKES US UP — THEN WE BOTH START LAUGHING AGAIN
"THAT LOOKS OKAY, ANNIE — YOU DON'T HAVE TO WORRY SO MUCH — THE WAY YOU WORRY, YOU'D THINK YOU WERE MAKING A FANCY SOLID-GOLD WATCH
HONEST, I'M NOT WORRYIN' AT ALL — I'M JUST KINDA CAREFUL TO BUILD THE HOUSE RIGHT — YOU KNOW I'M JUST LEARNIN', SO I'M SCARED I'LL MAKE MISTAKES
OH, SURE, YOU'LL MAKE MISTAKES — EVERYONE DOES — BUT DON'T FORGET, YOU'RE MAKING A CHEAP, LITTLE BIRD-HOUSE — NOT A MARBLE PALACE
I KNOW THE LITTLE HOUSES AREN'T SWELL —
BUT I WANNA MAKE 'EM GOOD AS I KIN, 'CAUSE MR OLIVER SEZ "IF YOU DON'T LEARN HOW TO DO A LITTLE JOB RIGHT, YOU'LL NEVER GET A CHANCE TO DO A BIG JOB WRONG"
DARRELL McCLURE
GLORYOSKY, ZERO — WILLYA LOOK AT THAT GREAT, BIG TRUCK ALL LOADED UP WITH THE LITTLE BIRD-HOUSES WE MADE?
MAKIN' THE LITTLE HOUSES WAS LOTSA FUN — JUST LIKE PLAYIN' A NICE KIND OF A GAME — BUT I NEVER THOUGHT WE COULD EVER MAKE SO MANY OF 'EM
I DON'T KNOW HOW MUCH MONEY MR OLIVER GETS WHEN HE SELLS 'EM — BUT ANY ONE KIN SEE A GREAT, BIG TRUCK-LOAD OF HOUSES MUST BE WORTH LOTSA MONEY
COME ON, ZERO — WE GOTTA RUN AWFUL FAST — WHEN I WAS LOOKIN' AT THAT BIG TRUCK IT MADE ME FORGET I WAS AWFUL HUNGRY — NOW I'LL BE LATE FOR LUNCH
DARRELL McCLURE
OH, HANNA, IT MAKES ME FEEL GLAD ALL OVER TO SEE YOU ARE ABLE TO BE OUT AGAIN — ARE YOU SURE YOUR SPRAINED ANKLE IS OKAY?
HA, HA, HA — I FEEL FINE — THE DOCTOR SAID I WAS STRONG ENOUGH TO WALK, BUT I MUST'NT DO ANY HARD WORK — HA, HA HA, HA HA HA
NOW WHAT ARE YOU LAFFIN' AT?
I'M LAUGHING, BECAUSE MY HEALTH IS JUST RIGHT — I'M STRONG ENOUGH TO HAVE FUN — BUT TOO WEAK TO WORK
HEY, LOOK OUT! YOU'LL DROP YOUR DOLL — AN YOU'RE HOLDIN' IT UPSIDE DOWN!
HA HA HA HA — THIS DOLL IS FUNNY ANY WAY YOU LOOK AT IT — IT HASN'T ANY LEGS, SO NO MATTER HOW HARD IT FALLS IT CAN'T SPRAIN ITS ANKLE
18
HA, HA — IT'S TEN BELOW ZERO AND WE'RE GOING TO VISIT AN ICE-HOUSE!! HA, HA, HA
I THINK IT'S SWELL — WE'LL HAVE A SLEIGH-RIDE DOWN TO THE LAKE AN' SEE THE MEN CUTTING ICE — I NEVER SAW THAT BEFORE
MY GRACIOUS GOODNESS! AN ICE-HOUSE IS JUST GRAND — IT'S JUST LIKE A BANK WHERE YOU PUT MONEY AN' SAVE IT FOR A RAINY DAY —
MR OLIVER IS TERRIBLE SMART — HE KNOWS WHEN THE SUMMER COMES IT WILL BE AWFUL HOT AN' THERE WON'T BE ANY ICE ON THE LAKE — SO HE PUTS THE ICE IN A BANK —
AN' WHEN KIDS START WISHIN' THEY HAD SOME ICE CREAM — MR OLIVER GOES TO THE ICE BANK AN' GETS A GREAT, BIG CHUNK OF ICE — GIVES IT TO THE COOK AN' THEN ALL THE KIDS WILL FEEL GLAD ALL OVER"
DARRELL McCLURE
THIS IS A PORTRAIT OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON — A GREAT AMERICAN — HE FOUNDED OUR FISCAL SYSTEM
"FISCAL SYSTEM"?? WHAT'S THAT?
IT MEANS THE HANDLING OF MONEY — INSTEAD OF USING FOREIGN COINS, HAMILTON HAD OUR OWN GOVERNMENT MAKE DOLLARS, DIMES AND CENTS —
GEE!
IT IS ALWAYS A RED LETTER DAY FOR ME WHEN I DISCOVER THE PORTRAIT OF A FAMOUS ORPHAN FOR OUR ORPHANS' HALL OF FAME — OR A NAME FOR OUR RECORDS
DARRELL McCLURE
YOU KNOW, WHEN MR OLIVER FINDS OUT THE NAME OF SOME NEW, FAMOUS ORPHAN IT MAKES HIM FEEL GLAD ALL OVER — GEE — HOW I WISHT I KNEW THE NAME OF LOTSA FAMOUS ORPHANS TO TELL MR. OLIVER!

THE MENU FOR TONIGHT IS FRUIT CAKE -- COLD CHICKEN -- HAM -- I'LL TAKE YOU FOR DESSERT!
HELLO!
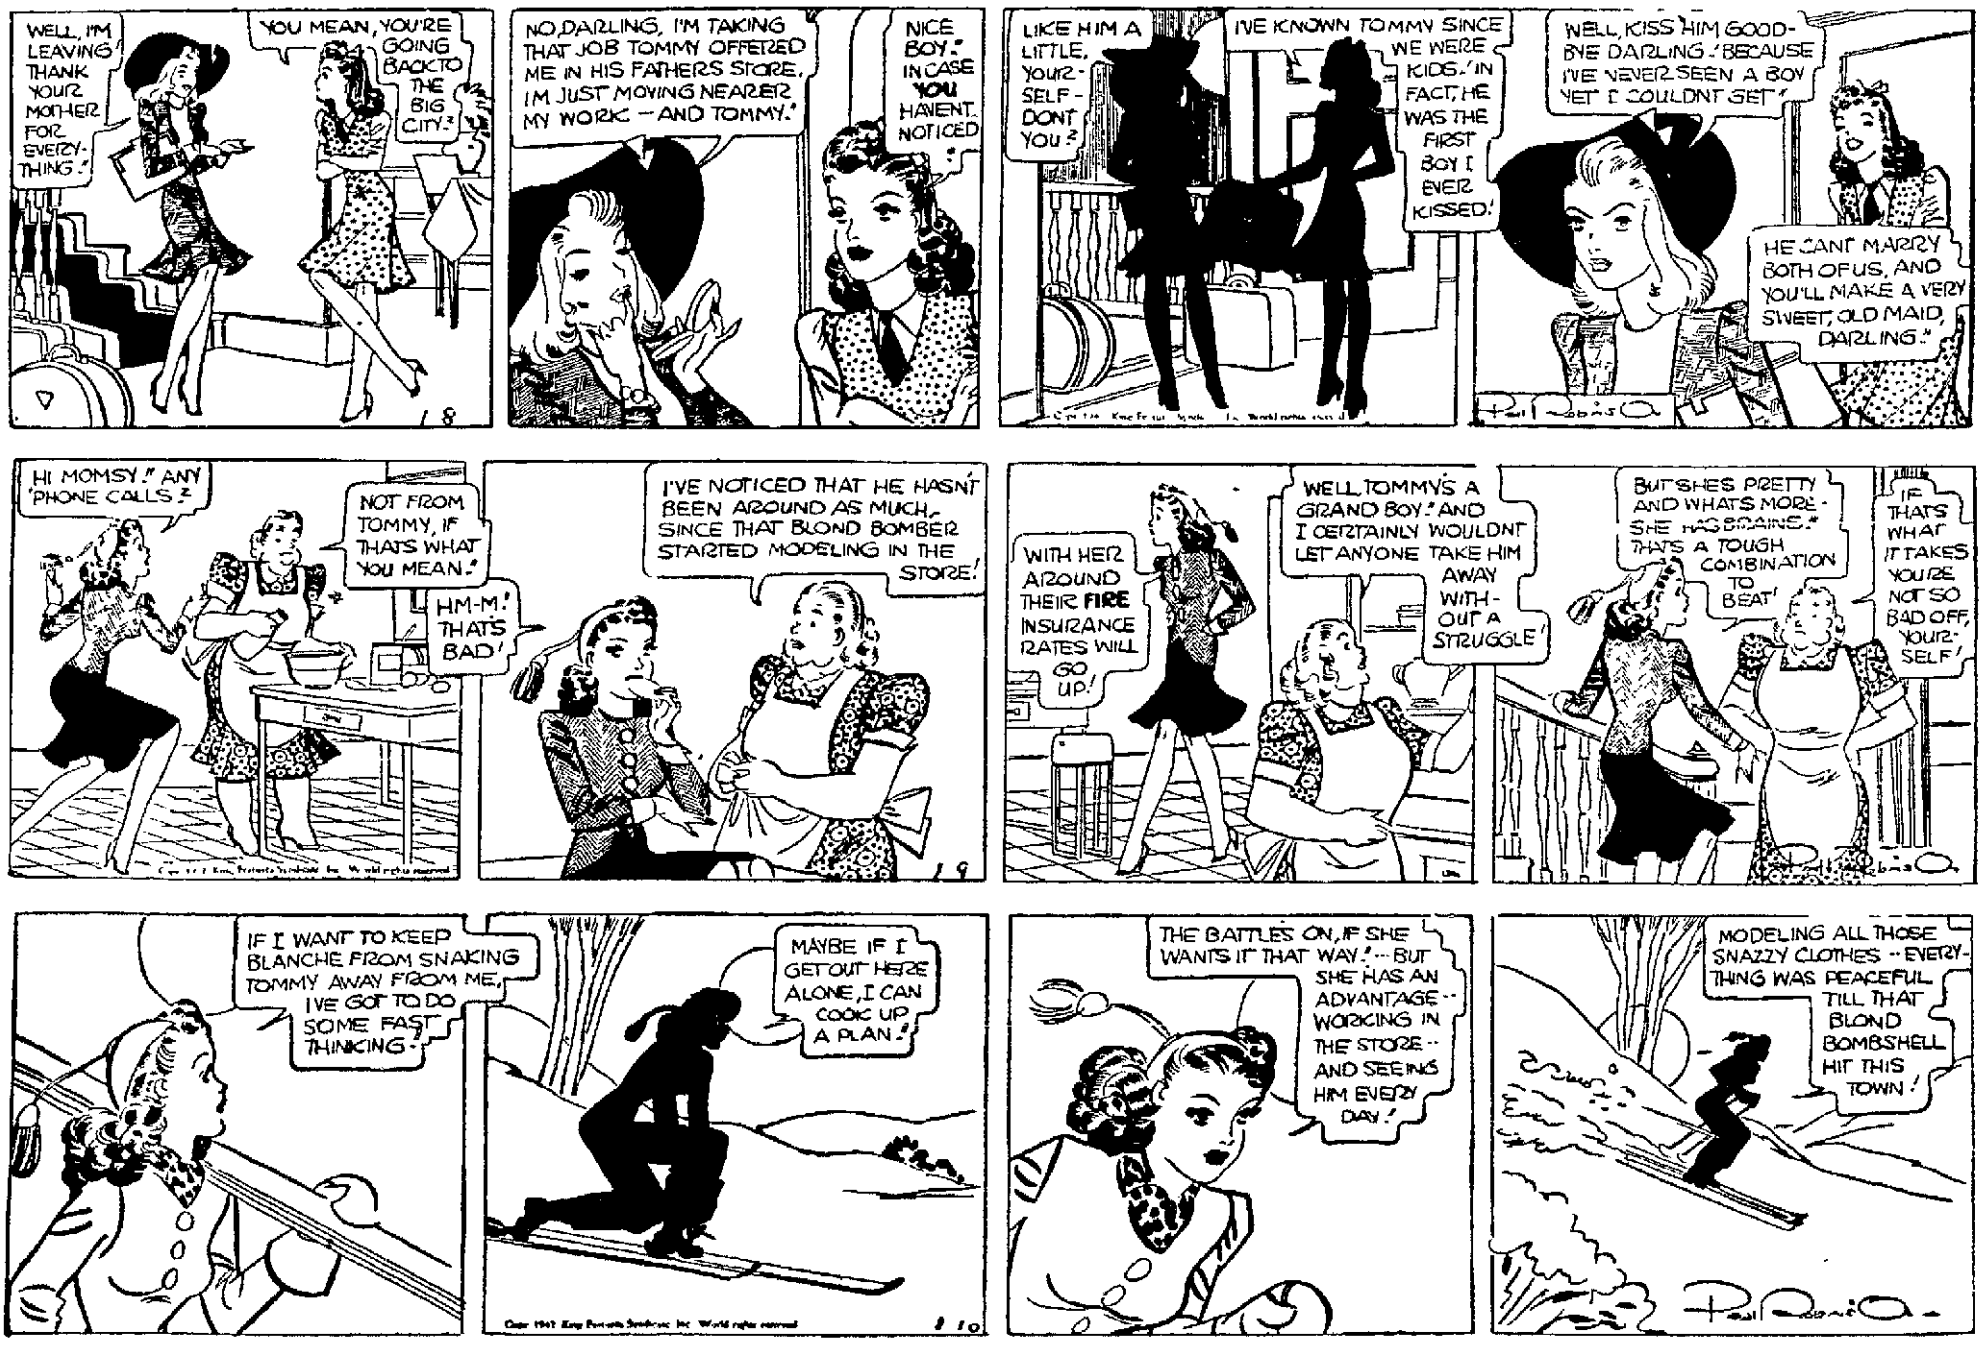
BLANCHE, THIS IS TOMMY SORRY TO BARGE IN "BUT I COULDN'T SLEEP, --CAME DOWN FOR A GLASS OF MILK OR SOMETHING BLANCHE WAS A MODEL IN MOTHER'S FASHION SHOW!
A MODEL? SAY - I THOUGHT YOUR FACE WAS FAMILIAR." I'VE SEEN YOU IN THE ADS." YOU'RE EVEN PRETTIER IN REAL LIFE!
THANKS!
WELL, GOOD-NIGHT!
HEY, YOU DON'T NEED ANY BEAUTY SLEEP." STICK AROUND, WE'RE HAVING A SNACK."
BLANCHE WAS A MODEL IN MOTHER'S FASHION SHOW, SHE'S GOING BACK TO THE CITY TOMORROW!
IT'S BEEN FUN HERE!
WHY CHECK OUT?
BUT I HAVE MY CAREER TO THINK OF." WHAT COULD I DO IN A SMALL TOWN EXCEPT MARRY - AND SETTLE DOWN?
THAT'S AN IDEA BUT I MEAN MODELING!
TOMMY'S FATHER OWNS THE BIG STORE HERE!
HOW TERRIBLY INTERESTING!
I'LL INTRODUCE YOU TO DAD! THE OLD JOINT NEEDS PEPPING UP!
SOMETHING TELLS ME I'LL LIKE THE JOB." THANKS! GOOD NIGHT!
SEE YOU IN THE MORNING!
HOW PERFECTLY COZY!
DAD A MODEL IS JUST WHAT THIS STORE NEEDS IN OUR DRESS DEPARTMENT." ALL THE BIG CITY STORES HAVE THEM!
H-M-M!
HELLO! AM I INTERRUPTING A BUSINESS CONFERENCE?
BLANCHE." COME IN!"
H-M-M!
DAD THIS IS MISS ALLISON THE GIRL I WAS TELLING YOU ABOUT!
ALL I HOPE IS, THAT OUR CUSTOMERS ARE AS ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT YOU AS HE IS!
BECAUSE YOU'VE GOT A JOB!
OH, HOW CAN I EVER THANK YOU ENOUGH!?
YOU MEAN, THANK ME!" IT'S MY IDEA



WELL, I'M LEAVING! THANK YOUR MOTHER FOR EVERY-THING!
YOU MEAN, YOU'RE GOING BACK TO THE BIG CITY?
NO, DARLING, I'M TAKING THAT JOB TOMMY OFFERED ME IN HIS FATHER'S STORE, I'M JUST MOVING NEARER MY WORK -- AND TOMMY."
NICE BOY." IN CASE YOU HAVEN'T NOTICED!
LIKE HIM A LITTLE, YOURSELF - DON'T YOU?
I'VE KNOWN TOMMY SINCE WE WERE KIDS." IN FACT, HE WAS THE FIRST BOY I EVER KISSED!
WELL, KISS HIM GOOD-BYE DARLING." BECAUSE I'VE NEVER SEEN A BOY YET I COULDN'T GET"
HE CAN'T MARRY BOTH OF US, AND YOU'LL MAKE A VERY SWEET, OLD MAID, DARLING."
HI MOMSY." ANY 'PHONE CALLS?
NOT FROM TOMMY, IF THAT'S WHAT YOU MEAN."
HM-M! THAT'S BAD!
I'VE NOTICED THAT HE HASN'T BEEN AROUND AS MUCH, SINCE THAT BLOND BOMBER STARTED MODELING IN THE STORE!
WITH HER AROUND THEIR FIRE INSURANCE RATES WILL GO UP!
WELL, TOMMY'S A GRAND BOY." AND I CERTAINLY WOULDN'T LET ANYONE TAKE HIM AWAY WITH-OUT A STRUGGLE!
BUT SHE'S PRETTY AND WHAT'S MORE - SHE HAS BRAINS." THAT'S A TOUGH COMBINATION TO BEAT!
IF THAT'S WHAT IT TAKES YOU'RE NOT SO BAD OFF, YOURSELF!
IF I WANT TO KEEP BLANCHE FROM SNAKING TOMMY AWAY FROM ME, I'VE GOT TO DO SOME FAST THINKING.
MAYBE IF I GET OUT HERE ALONE, I CAN COOK UP A PLAN!
THE BATTLE'S ON, IF SHE WANTS IT THAT WAY! -- BUT SHE HAS AN ADVANTAGE -- WORKING IN THE STORE -- AND SEEING HIM EVERY DAY!
MODELING ALL THOSE SNAZZY CLOTHES -- EVERY-THING WAS PEACEFUL TILL THAT BLOND BOMBSHELL HIT THIS TOWN!
